Clouds Reduce Fair Attendance

Splendid Horse Racing and Rodeo Feature Pleased Those Who Visited Track Friday—Fair Closes Today With Hopes of Big Success.

Splendid races and a fine entertainment program featured the attractions at the Ulster County Fair in Ellenville Friday, when cloudy weather held the attendance record below that of the first three days. Many are expected to attend the grand closing program of the fair today.

Those who did turn out at the race track Friday were given plenty of thrills. The 2:22 class mixed and the free-for-all trot produced enthusiasm galore as the horses raced over the finishing line in a manner that would cause a big sensation on any track in the country.

Only one Kingston entry appeared on the track. Fox Frisco owned by Mrs. W. S. Eckert and driven by Pete Eckert. This bay gelding made a wonderful showing in the first heat of the free-for-all, leaving all contestants far in the dust. The Eckert horse gave ground to Andy Volo, the pride of Gus Munz of Flushing, L. I., in the second and third, the Kingston horse coming in third in the second and second in the third frame.

Andy Volo showed that he was a great horse, after making a poor showing in the first heat. He broke in this frame and crossed the finishing line fourth. At the outset of the second heat, running as pole horse, the big black gelding came up from third place as the first quarter of the mile vanished, and at half the mile mark had the crowd cheering for him. He led the field, accomplishing his lead by a remarkable stride, and finished in the lead in the second and third heats, winning the first place prize. His time was 2:13¼ and 2:12¼.

The summary of the free-for-all follows:

Hal Regent	2	4	3
C. A. Kaune, Montgomery.
Andy Volo	4	1	1
Gus Munz, Flushing.
Fox Frisco	1	3	2
Mrs. W. S. Eckert, Kingston.
Owen Direct	3	2	4
John Stimpson, Hartford.
Lillian G.	5	5	5

J. T. Keegan's Butch McKlyo, a black gelding from Orangeburg, N. Y., finished first in all three heats in the 2:22 class mixed race, unanimously claiming first prize. Chinky Pin owned by Max Karpf of Newburgh came in second in every heat, making Butch McKlyo extend himself to the limit.

This race which started before the free for all made the spectators rise in their seats as the horses flashed over the track in a spirited style. An accident occurred in the first heat, when Frank Osborne of Monticello fell from his sulky. He was stunned but not severely injured. His horse, Weather Signal, followed the field and did an extra half mile without a driver before attendants and state troopers ran him into the barnyard adjoining the track. He did not compete in the next two heats.

Butch McKlyo's time for the three heats was as follows: 2:13¼, 2:15, 2:17½.

The summary of the 2:22 class mixed follows:

Butch McKlyo, J. T. Keegan, Orangeburg	1	1	1
Chinky Pin, Max Karpf, Newburgh	2	2	2
Peter Port	5	3	4
Tommy Twinkly, B. T. Clark, Woodbourne	3	4	3
Weather Signal, Frank Osborne, Monticello	6	drawn
Emma Arion, J. T. Keegan, Orangeburg	4	5	out
Sweet June, A. Drinkwater, Hackensack	7	6	5

Lloyd M. Hallenbeck of Greendale, N. Y., the prominent starter, occupied his regular position at the Ellenville track with Isaac N. Doyle of Ellenville and Philadelphia working with him as timer. Judges were James Shiels of Lackawack, Robert Stapleton of Monticello and Edward Terwilliger of Ellenville.

Starter Hallenbeck, who also did the announcing of events at the fair, invited everyone to visit the Orangeburg Fair next week. This Rockland county attraction draws many every year and is classed as one of the best fairs in the state.

Mr. Hallenbeck introduced California Frank's Rodeo as the next feature on the program and this entertainment in the form of all-real western stunts made a big hit with the fair patrons. There was plenty of first-class roping, sharp shooting by Mrs. Frank, broncho riding, wild steer riding, high jumping by one of the greatest horses ever trained to do this stunt and plenty of humor added to the show by Little Alvie, the smallest cowboy in the country.

Visitors made their rounds of the midway and exhibits after the entertainment and found plenty to keep them interested. In the evening there was another show and band concert. Clayton's Military Band of Ellenville furnished the music. Fireworks also featured the evening attractions.

The fair committee of the Ulster County Agricultural Society expected many to turn out at the fair today. They hope that the 41st annual event will be one of the most successful ever held by the organization.

Marshal Von Sanders Dead.

Berlin, Aug. 24 (AP).—Field Marshal Liman Von Sanders, who directed operations against the British in Gallipoli during the World War, died Thursday at Munich. He was 74.

Moss May Follow Palmer Canfield

From reliable sources it is reported that W. D. Moss, assistant to Prohibition Administrator Campbell of New York city, will shortly be appointed to the position of administrator of the Albany district to succeed Palmer Canfield, Jr., who was placed in charge of the Albany district when the enforcement districts were re-arranged. Mr. Canfield was recently removed from the office and is now engaged in work for President Hoover's crime commission in New York city. In addition to that duty Mr. Canfield was given the especially created post of legal inspector of the northeastern states at an increase in salary and in that capacity remained with the prohibition bureau. When Mr. Canfield was relieved from duty Captain Dengler took temporary command of the district but it was understood that he will be returned to his job at Washington when Mr. Moss takes over the work of this district.

Tariff Factions May Get Together

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP).—The contending tariff factions in the Senate are again professing a willingness to bring the issue to a decision before the regular session begins in December.

Leaders of the Democrats and the Republican independents give this informal assurance coincident with the rumor of a threat from the Republican camp that unless the tariff bill is acted on by January 1, it will be laid aside until next year's political campaigns are over.

That threat seems to have emanated from high authority in the administration leadership at the capitol, which neither confirms nor denies it. The administration apparently is determined not to have the controversy over such a vital issue dragged along and injected into the primary campaigns which begin next year. The Republican leadership also holds that President Hoover deserves to have his program for the extra session acted upon during that session and other work attended to in the regular session.

Democratic leaders have replied that they concur. Their answer is they feel the Republican tariff bill is good campaign material for the Democrats and they are ready to settle the question in Congress and go to the polls on the result. Also, the Democrats say they are willing that Mr. Hoover's extra session program be disposed of in the extra session.

Senator Borah of Idaho, a spokesman for the western Republicans who are opposing the tariff measure framed by the administration Republicans, says he has no intention of delaying a final vote. Under no circumstances, he says, will he seek to filibuster against it.

Whether President Hoover would concur in the rumored proposal to put the tariff bill aside after the first of the year if not acted upon then is problematical and none of his advisers at the capitol hazards a guess.

Senator Tyson, War Veteran, Dies

Philadelphia, Aug. 24 (AP).—United States Senator Lawrence D. Tyson, Democrat, of Tennessee, holder of the distinguished service medal for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" during the World War, died early today in the Manresa Manor Sanitarium, Stafford, near here, at the age of 68 years.

Senator Tyson's death followed a relapse late yesterday. At his bedside when the end came were Mrs. Tyson and their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Gilpin.

A veteran of the World and Spanish-American Wars, Senator Tyson's five years in the senate were characterized by his interest in soldier legislation.

Senator Tyson was brought to Jefferson Hospital in this city July 29. He came here from his home in Knoxville, Tenn., accompanied by Mrs. Tyson. At the time it was stated he was suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Still the gallant warrior, Senator Tyson battled desperately to the end—against the odds of a weakened heart and a state of utter exhaustion.

High School Steps Collapse

Several of the large stone steps of the main entrance to the Kingston High School collapsed, but fortunately the school was closed for the summer vacation and the steps were being little used. The work of repairing the steps is now being done by Contractor William McCullough. The stones that collapsed were ten feet long and are very heavy.

Collision in Saugerties.

A Chrysler sedan operated by Luther Dixon of this city and a Ford sedan operated by Ellen T. McCormick of Brooklyn came together Thursday on Ulster avenue, Saugerties. Miss McCormick was cut by glass and required the attendance of Dr. Luther Emerick, who took two stitches in a wound on her face and also two stitches in a wound on her elbow. Mr. Dixon received a slight cut on the hand. Both cars were badly damaged.

Fall Guys Form Radio Club Here

Organizers From New York Collect $10 to $30 a Member and Deliver Radio Sets Which Fail to Work—Organizers Arrested at Catskill by Local Police.

About a dozen members of the Fall Guys Radio Association that was organized in Kingston on Friday were in police court this morning to swear out informations against Michael Miniionica of Brooklyn and Michael Sanders of New York city, who were caught at Catskill late on Friday and brought back to Kingston by Sergeant Simpson and lodged in the county jail to await a hearing before Judge Shufeldt in police court today.

According to the story as told by some of the members of the association the two young men traveled in a small truck, and made a house to house canvass seeking to sell radio sets. The price varied from $12 to $30; one of those who purchased a set obtained his for $10. He brought it with him to police headquarters to exhibit it to the police. It was a table set, and bore a label "Brunswick Radio" and contained six tubes and a short stretch of electric cord to allow it to be hooked up to the house current. That was about all the set contained and when the purchaser plugged into the base plug the set did not even pick up static. The purchaser said that the two men who sold him the set represented that it was an all electric set ready to be set up and use.

Just how much business the two men did in Kingston will probably not be definitely known, but the purchasers who appeared in police court today to swear out informations had paid out a total sum of $166.

Some had received the Brunswick cabinet and others the "R. C. A." cabinet. The sets were delivered to each customer in sealed cartons and the salesman stated that was the way each set was received from the factory. The outside of the set was stenciled with the words that it contained a complete radio set with tubes, and had been inspected and found "O. K."

The salesmen had been working in Kingston during the day and early that afternoon the telephone in police headquarters rang and a man's voice stated he had purchased a fake radio set, paying $20 for it. Soon other telephone complaints were received, but by that time the police department was busy on the job and two men were stopped at Catskill and held for the local police department.

From the conversation of the members of the Fall Guys Association at the city hall this morning it developed that not one of them had asked to have the set they purchased tried out before paying for it. According to those who purchased the sets they were old battery sets and not all electric as represented, and that even if hooked up to batteries they would not work as a major part of the equipment essential for radio reception was missing from the cabinets.

Both of the salesmen were arraigned later in the day before Judge Shufeldt in police court.

MAY ORDER FOREIGNERS TO EVACUATE HARBIN.

London, Aug. 24 (AP).—A Peiping dispatch to the Daily Mail today said the diplomatic body there was considering ordering the evacuation of all nationals from Harbin, Manchurian railroad center, in view of continued reports of a Russian advance against that city.

Anticipation of serious trouble in the event the Soviet Far Eastern Army moves against the railway seat was held in Peiping to be back of their deliberations. The Soviet advance has been reported imminent the last two or three days.

The London Times, summarizing events of the past week editorially, today seemed doubtful that peace would be maintained and thought the hopeful tone taken by Tokyo could be discounted by the fact it was to Japan's interest to see that war was averted. The Times suggested Japan's wishes were father to the thought.

Among scanty advices sweeping in from the frontier was a dispatch to Mail which said Yen Hsi Shan, governor of Shansi province, has collected materials for construction of an arsenal at his capital, Tia Yuan Fu, and that Feng Yu Hsiang, erstwhile "Christian General" was stated to be receiving munitions. The inference drawn from the reports was that President Chaing Kai Shek had failed to achieve the national unity he sought.

RUNAWAY TEAM OF HORSES AND AUTO TRUCK COLLIDED

Friday afternoon a team of horses owned by Thomas Kean, who is employed by the city, ran away on Wilbur avenue and collided with an auto trucks of the Charles Green Transfer Company of Newburgh and driven by William Quick of that city. The truck was somewhat damaged, but the horses were uninjured.

An Auto Collision.

Friday the automobiles of Clarence Mains of 127 Pine Grove avenue and Loren Buley of Mt. Tremper, collided at Cornell street and Smith avenue. Both cars were somewhat damaged, but no one was injured.

Zeppelin On Way To Los Angeles

Tokyo, Aug. 24 (AP).—Crossing toward the half-way mark of its journey, the Graf Zeppelin cruised eastward over the northern Pacific today, bound for Los Angeles and completion of the third lap of its round-the-world flight. The dirigible was in frequent touch with radio stations on the Pacific Coast.

As the huge ship headed northeastward toward the Aleutian Islands, which form an Alaskan index finger pointing to Japan, reports were that head winds were slowing its progress. Dr. Eckener originally had intended to pass just south of this group on the great circle course to Seattle, but changed his course to almost due east directly after departure to make the best weather conditions.

If the Zeppelin did not have to veer too much from a due eastward course it might expect to pass the half way mark of its voyage, at about 170 west longitude, at about 3 p. m., today E. S. T.

Strangely enough, that time will be about 4 a. m. today—Saturday—aboard the Zeppelin, whereas at noon today aboard the Zeppelin (10 a. m. Tokyo time; 8 p. m. Friday E. S. T.) The position was reported to Ochiishi wireless station as only 1,300 miles east of Tokyo, or about a quarter of this distance to be traversed.

This anomaly will be made possible by the Graf's passage over the international date line at about 180 degrees of longitude, by which going eastward it will have lost a full day. If it were going westward it would gain a day.

Weather reports available here indicated Dr. Eckener in striking due east and to the south of the course he had hoped to follow was taking advantage of a high pressure area extending south of the great circle course to Seattle. Along the great circle course and to its north a low pressure area promised stormy weather if he should veer too far in that direction.

Toward the Aleutian Island region considerable fog with moderate to fresh winds could be expected. West of 170 degrees west longitude north winds striking the airship on its beam were expected; east of 17 west south winds, also at right angles to the course.

Hardly had the Graf left Kasumigaura yesterday when a storm enveloped it and tossed it about for a few minutes, with wind and rain beating about its silvery sides and lightning flashing about its hydrogen-filled balloons. Later messages said the Zeppelin was picking up after an early lack of speed. Then conditions forced her to slow down.

Guardsmen Leave For Camp Tonight

The First Battalion of the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, will leave Kingston tonight on the West Shore for its annual summer training at Pine Camp, Great Bend, N. Y., where two weeks will be spent in actual field practice and play.

Not only do the boys get their share of military tactics in a practical way, but have a chance to get in on all the fun that a youth of today could wish for. The sports at the camp develop the men physically and mentally and make them more fit for their various occupations that they take up upon their return.

It is expected that many will turn out tonight to see the boys leave for Pine Camp. The First Battalion in command of Major O. R. Hiltebrant is scheduled to leave the armory at 7:15 o'clock. Each soldier will carry his complete pack and entrain at the West Shore depot.

Relatives and friends of the Guardsmen will be able to follow their activities through the columns of The Freeman. A correspondent is being sent to Pine Camp, the same as last year, so that "the folks at home" may keep in touch with their boys and all the highlights at the camp.

Montana Forest Fire Spreading

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 24 (AP).—Fanned by high winds, the half moon forest fire which already has burned over 75,000 acres of timberland today was spreading beyond control of the hundreds of men fighting it.

The Lewis Hotel, at the head of Lake McDonald, was evacuated last night, and it was feared it would be destroyed. Forest service men, park employes, railroad men and residents of the district threatened by the fire have combined to fight the blaze, which has been the most disastrous of any in the state this season.

On the Lolo Pass highway, beyond which a small army is waging a desperate battle to stop the flames advancing on the Montana border from the Bald Pate mountain fire in Idaho, all traffic except that of the forestry service was banned.

Airplanes For Manchuria.

Hanghai, Aug. 24 (AP).—A dispatch from Mukden, capital of Manchuria, to Tachung, semi-official news agency, today said "a large shipment of military bombing airplanes arrived from France August 23" destined for the Manchurian border defense forces.

Quimistan Crew Drifted 45 Hours

New York, Aug. 24 (AP).—The twenty-six members of the crew of the old freighter Quimistan, which sank at sea on August 18, were brought to port today on the liner President Harrison, after they had drifted in open boats for more than sixty hours. All were reported in good physical condition after their experience.

They were a polyglot, hard-bitten bunch of old sailors, and their Captain, George Pietsch, 42 years old, a German, declared "we were perfectly comfortable. Nothing to be frightened about. We're all old sailormen, and a sailor never worries as long as he has a boat of some kind under him."

The only American in the crew was Harry Martin, the cook, who hails from Portland, Ore. He described the business as "just a shipwreck."

The Quimistan, according to her captain, was "perfectly sea-worthy." If she hadn't been, he said, he would never have taken her out. He said she was passed by the Lloyd's inspectors at Norfolk, Va., before she started on the voyage she never completed.

Captain Pietsch said he was engaged by the Northern Shipping Company of Hamburg, Germany, owners of the vessel, to take her from Norfolk to Genoa, Italy, where she was to be junked. She carried no cargo but had 30 tons of scrap iron aboard as ballast.

They sailed from Norfolk the evening of August 14. The weather was perfect. "The sea was like a looking glass," Captain Pietsch said.

At 3:30 p. m. on August 18 it was discovered that a plate on the stern counter, about two feet below the water line, had sprung. The leak was a big one.

The ship was about half filled with water and listing heavily to port the morning of August 19, when the crew abandoned her. They took to two lifeboats, each equipped with a sail besides the oars.

They had been burning mattresses, planks and everything else burnable on the steel forecastle head in order to attract any vessel that might be near. The Quimistan had no wireless. Evidently the fires remained and caught to the rest of the ship, for the Captain of the American freighter Yalza later reported sighting the derelict ablaze.

The captain decided they should sail due north instead of south, because, although Sable, off Nova Scotia, was further away than the Bermudas, they would get into the more travelled steamship lines by going north and have a better chance of getting rescued.

"We weren't worried," said the captain. "We had plenty of food—we had sausages, roast beef, bread, canned pineapple, almost everything you could ask for. We even had music!"

One of the sailors in second mate Jorgensen's boat brought along a small phonograph, and they played this continually.

For two days and two nights everything went well. The craft kept together and the sea was fairly calm. On the third night, however, the wind changed, the waves rose, and the boats were driven about ten miles apart.

The afternoon of August 21 the officer on the bridge of the President Harrison, A. M. Norman, was keeping a careful watch because the liner had picked up a message asking her to watch for the two Swiss fliers. It was he who sighted the boats.

TURNER TAKES OFF TO BEAT ANOTHER RECORD.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP).—Captain Roscoe Turner with four passengers took off from here at 6:21:21 a. m. E. D. T., today in an attempt to break the east-to-west transcontinental flight record.

The record which Captain Turner seeks to lower is 19 hours, 10 minutes and 32 seconds, held by Captain Frank M. Hawks.

Turner planned to make stops for fuel at Cincinnati, Ohio; Tulsa, Okla., and Albuquerque, N. M. His destination is Glendale, Cal.

He flew here Wednesday from Glendale in 19 hours, 53 minutes. The flight was to demonstrate the feasibility of one-day transcontinental passenger air service.

On the eastward trip he made four stops and carried Fred G. Trosper and Russell Pechi of Los Angeles and Dr. R. Lane of Berkeley, Cal., and H. C. Gatty of Los Angeles. They made the return trip.

Turner said he hoped to reach Glendale in about 17 hours with 15 minute stops at the refueling points.

CHICKEN THIEVES GET SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Judge Frederick Simpson of Rochester sentenced William Coddington and Olson Relyea of Granite to six months in the county jail for purloining chickens from the poultry yards of Edward Davenport and Mrs. Sarah Hoornbeek of Granite. The arrests were made by Sergeant Hopkins and Trooper Arthur Riley.

May Recover From Slit Throat.

Brussels, Aug. 24 (AP).—Physicians today considered the condition of William Boutelle, 21, of Worcester, Mass., Boston University student, so much improved that he was out of danger. Boutelle was wounded Thursday by a former lover of a dancer who was accompanying him, the man slitting his throat.

British Warships Sail For Palestine

Troops Also Sent Because of Rioting Between Jews and Arabs Over Right of Former to Conduct Religious Service at the Wailing Wall.

Arab Assault At Wailing Wall

Nine Jews and Three Arabs Killed in Renewed Fighting in Jerusalem—Religious Differences Over Right to Worship Cause of the Trouble.

Jerusalem, Aug. 24, (Jewish Telegraph Agency).—Twelve persons were killed and 100 others injured in a fresh assault last night by Arabs on Jews assembling at the wailing wall for worship. Of the dead nine were Jews and three Arabs.

Excitement was intense today. All shops were closed and police in armored cars dashed through the streets in a vain attempt to preserve order. Among the wounded were Wolfgang Von Weisle, a correspondent of the Berlin Vossiche Zeitung.

The assault came as the climax to a day of unrest. The Hebrews, firm in their conviction of right to use the wailing wall for worship, and the Arabs, assembling by the thousands for their Friday prayers at the Mosque of Omar, had been near clashing all day.

Arabs previously stoned a group of aged Jewish worshippers who assembled at the wailing wall, and assaulted the Jews, one near the American colony and another at Motza. A Russian Christian who was mistaken by the Arabs for a Jew, was severely beaten in the old city.

Communists in Palestine exploited the events of recent days with a proclamation calling upon "all Palestine to break down British imperialism." The moslem committee for defense of the wailing will issued an appeal to the moslems alleging responsibility rested upon the Jews. The appeal asserted the Jews sought to extend their rights at the wall and contended: "This is dangerous and inadmissible."

The Zionist executive and the national council of Palestine Jews issued a "call to national discipline," deploring events and criticizing the action of police.

London, Aug. 24 (AP).—The admiralty announced today that the British warships Barham and Sussex were sailing from Malta to Palestine today at the request of the high commissioner there, following an outbreak at the Wailing Wall in Palestine.

Alexandria, Egypt, Aug. 24 (AP).—It was understood here today a battalion of troops was being dispatched immediately to Palestine in connection with the rioting about the Wailing Wall at Jerusalem.

Jerusalem, Aug. 24 (AP).—Latest unofficial reports this afternoon said eighteen Arabs and eleven Jews had been killed and more than 150 wounded on both sides in fighting between the two races which began yesterday over rights of worship at the Wailing Wall.

Sporadic fighting between Jews and Arabs continued outside of Jerusalem today but the city itself was quiet after last night's clashes growing out of the Wailing Wall controversy.

In consequence of the trouble, the police proclaimed a curfew.

The trouble started in the city after prayer as a mosque adjoining the Wailing Wall. The Arabs who had gathered from neighboring villages, began an attack on the Jewish quarters, which were successfully defended by the Jewish inhabitants and the police.

Censorship on telegrams sent abroad also has been established.

Various Cases In Police Court

John Hanlon and Patrick Collins, both of Albany, were arrested Friday afternoon charged with public intoxication at the Kingston Fair Grounds. This morning each was fined $5, and unable to pay were remanded to the county jail.

Max Levine of New York city, forfeited $25 cash bail when he failed to appear in court to answer to a charge of reckless driving on Broadway on Friday which ended when he crashed into a traffic standard at East St. James street.

Emil Seidmann of New York was fined $5 for passing a red traffic signal.

Following a collision between their cars, William A. Kolts of 46 Crane street and James Boyd of Philadelphia, Pa., arrested each other on a charge of reckless driving. The collision occurred Friday afternoon on Albany avenue near the Governor Clinton Hotel. The hearing was set down until later.

Friday seven youths were arrested in the rear of the Hotel Eichler, and two were held for a hearing in children's court while the others were given suspended sentences in police court today. The boys were caught playing poker.

King George Goes To Sandringham

London, Aug. 24 (AP).—King George and Queen Mary left London today for the country palace at Sandringham. They traveled in a closed motor car to the railway station, where a special train awaited them for the journey north.

King George's departure was of special interest, as it was generally taken as an indication that his majesty once again was convalescent.

ITALIAN AIR MINISTRY CONSIDERING BRITISH REFUSAL

Rome, Aug. 24 (AP).—The air ministry today stated it was considering the situation created by British refusal to postpone the Schneider cup races but had not yet arrived at any decision. Notification of the refusal was received here last night. The request for a postponement of the race was made yesterday after the death of Captain Giuseppe Motta, Italy's leading entrant, in a practice flight.

FATHER LEADS OFFICERS TO SON'S MOONSHINE STILL.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 24 (AP).—A twenty year old boy was in jail here today because his father, who had "done time" for making moonshine whiskey, led federal officers to his son's still and asked them to arrest him.

The father, James Moore, insisted he was "doing the best thing for the boy" and that "it is the only way to teach him a lesson". The son, William Arthur Moore, was bitter, blaming his crime on the father.

Moore led the officers to the still, in the country about twenty miles from here, yesterday. His son and Eugene Morehead, 40, were tending it. Taking the youth by the arm, Moore said: "Take the boy and let the rest go. I want to teach him not to mess with whiskey."

The son pulled from Moore's grasp and answered: "You should have thought of that when I was a kid, before you beat me into learnin' this game. You're a fine father, you are, to turn on me like this."

Moore admitted the charges to the extent that he had made whiskey, saying he got caught, did time and was "through".

Morehead was arrested with young Moore and both were held in default of $2,000 bond.

QUEEN SETTLED PRECEDENCE BY MIXING UP GUESTS

The Hague, Aug. 24 (AP).—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands alters the laws of etiquette to suit each situation. There is no social problem so difficult, her fond subjects aver, but her queenly tact solves its intricacies and averts ruffled feelings among her guests.

Delegates to the government's reparation conference here wondered how she would seat them at a dinner to which all were invited last night. There were three premiers and lesser cabinet officers among them, all, for instance, commanding precedence over Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer.

Snowden, if given his place according to the diplomatic protocol, to which the Netherlands adheres more strictly than most any other nation, would have been seated at the table in an inconspicuous place. Queen Wilhelmina solved the problem of seating by dividing the guests among ten tables, so that the most meticulous critic could not have determined the precedence accorded each guest.

SPOKANE LUMBER YARD FIRE STILL GOING.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 24 (AP).—A fire which started from an undetermined source in the J. P. McGoldrick lumber yard and spread quickly to ten square blocks of buildings in the industrial section of Spokane, was believed to be under control today but was still burning despite the efforts of virtually the entire city fire department to quench it.

Two firemen were injured, one critically.

While the damage was expected to reach more than $100,000 the blaze was held in an area bounded by factories and other buildings which, if burned, would have meant a loss of several million dollars.

Farming in New York State

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP).—The widespread drought experienced in this state during last month and the early part of this month has become serious in many sections, according to a report issued by the Ithaca weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture covering the week ended August 12.

Pastures, according to the report, are holding up where rain has been sufficient, but in other sections are turning brown. Scattered showers occurred during the week but with few exceptions were light. The report continued:

"The second cutting of alfalfa has been secured in good condition. Oats are short and the harvest is now in full swing in most sections. Corn has made good growth but it is beginning to show the effect of dry weather. Beans in Schuyler and Livingston counties are badly affected by root rot.

"Early potatoes are being dug and the yield is light. Late potatoes are making good growth. Blossom end rot in tomatoes is taking heavy toll in some sections. Truck crops on low ground are holding up well, but on the drier uplands they are not doing so well. Early apples are quite plentiful in the markets and they have ripened about 10 days earlier than usual."

Heavy damage has been caused by the corn grub in the vicinity of Geneva, according to reports from market gardeners. The larvae of this pest work at the roots of the corn and belong to a different species than the corn borer.

The garden club of East Aurora has abandoned its annual flower show this year, the members reporting that because of continued dry weather the mid-summer blossoms have not developed sufficiently to constitute an attractive display. The show was postponed several times but the hoped-for rain failed to arrive.

According to the crop report for August issued by the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets in conjunction with the United States Department of Agriculture the condition of corn in the state now is slightly poorer than on July 1, the present index of condition being 80 as compared with 81 at that time.

The report stated that "where the moisture was sufficient the majority of the corn is looking well but in the deficient moisture areas it looks very backward."

H. A. Baum of New York city was one of the speakers at the potato exposition at State College, Pa., this week. The exposition was under direction of the Pennsylvania Potato Growers' Association, and featured three main programs covering production, marketing and consumption. Mr. Baum dealt with marketing.

Bulgaria Works To Lighten Burdens Imposed By Wars

By James A. Mills
(Associated Press Correspondent)

Pleven, Bulgaria, Aug. 24 (AP).—After many years of trial, under almost insuperable war burdens, Bulgaria is regaining its feet. This became apparent to the many Americans who visited the little Slav Kingdom during the recent observances of the thousandth anniversary of the reign of Czar Simeon the Great, Bulgaria's greatest monarch. The country's progress is particularly marked in the small cities and towns.

In and about this historic city of Pleven, from which the Russian Army, led by Czar Alexander III, drove the Turks fifty years ago and thus gave Bulgaria her independence, the Bulgarians have raised many fine monuments as tokens of gratitude to their liberators, but their finest monument is the remarkable progress they have made during their half-century of freedom, and especially in the decade since the World War.

A visit to any village near Pleven brings this progress into clear relief. For example, in a yard in the village of Trustenik there was found a "zemlianka" or "dug out," which is the kind of a house in which almost all Bulgarian villagers lived a few decades ago. It consists of a little porchlike entrance, then a small kitchen with an open fire place and after that a stall for a pair of big black cows, beyond which there is a slightly elevated section, on the dirt floor of which the family sleeps, with mats made of corn husks under them and heavy goat hair, hand woven rugs over them.

In the whole house there is but one little window, no stove, practically no furniture and no interior room divisions. The animals are placed in the middle of the hut to serve as a sort of a central heating system. The inmates of this "dug out" said that the cows kept the house as warm as a stove.

One can imagine what life would be like in such a small, dark house as this, in which nine or ten people of both sexes and all ages, belonging to two or more families, live with the domestic animals.

But such places are relics in modern Bulgaria. They have given way to solid brick houses, with large windows, good stoves and furniture. Other equally good brick buildings are being built by the thousands, for the farm animals.

Forty years ago this part of Bulgaria was thinly populated and poorly cultivated. There were no railroads and the wagon roads were bad. Now, prosperous villages dot the land. The fields are excellently cultivated with modern American and German machinery, supplemented by huge hoes deftly wielded by girls. The quality of the farm animals has been improved and the villages have adopted the best kinds of wheat, alfalfa, corn, and fruits.

The Pleven district is noted for its grapes and famous for its large sweet melons. In the Spring every family raises silk worms, feeding them on mulberry leaves from trees which the State furnished. As a result of State supervision and dairy contests the villages have increased the milk capacity of their cows threefold.

In every village there is a school, most of which are housed in excellent modern buildings. In this area less than ten per cent of the younger Bulgarians, including the young women and girls, are illiterate. Bulgaria has the lowest percentage of illiteracy of any country in the Balkans.

Since 1926 forty villages have put in water systems; many have electric light. In more than half of the villages there are public libraries, and in not a few popular lecture courses. Most of the roads uniting the villages as well as the main roads from city to city are macademized.

There are many popular banks, branches of a general mortgage bank and agricultural banks, all fostered by the state. Cooperative societies abound.

The very heavy, old, hand woven peasant costumes, extremely hot in summer, have given place to clothes which suit the seasons and straw hats are replacing heavy, sheep skin caps.

Through all this change the Bulgarians have retained their old fashioned morality. The village girls rarely bob their hair, no not wear short skirts and would not use cosmetics or smoke for anything in the world. Yet they are happy, sometimes gay and clever and occasionally very pretty. They resemble their brothers and fathers in being frugal, serious and industrious.

Thanks to these qualities the Bulgarians, although freed but a few decades ago, are turning their country into one of the best cultivated and best governed lands in southeast Europe.

ORATORY AS SUCH HAS NO STANDING IS FASCIST ITALY

Capri, Italy, Aug. 24 (AP).—Fascism has done at least one great thing for Italy—it has practically cut out after dinner oratory.

This was bluntly apparent to everyone who attended a National Touring convetnion here, designed to "boost" Central and Southern Italy, and the islands of Sicily and Sardinia, as excursion centers. The meetings were presided over by Filippo Pennovaria, under-secretary for railroads, and the way he brought the would-be speakers to the point was a caution.

One by one the representatives of the various regions began to descant upon the natural beauties of the sites they proposed to exploit. "Bang" went the gavel.

"We all know about the beauties of Amalfi, and a lot about its history!" His Excellency Pennavaria would bark. "What we do want to know is what you've done about roads, better sanitary conditions, and regulation of hotel prices. If you have anything to say on those subjects we'll listen; otherwise not!

"Please remember, gentlemen, that we are under Fascism, which believes in nothing but results."

LION CHASING AUTOS DECRIED BY ENGLISH

London, August 24 (AP).—Automobile casualties among the wild animals of Africa are causing considerable indignation here. Scores of people who used to write to the newspapers protesting against the mounting toll of pedestrians killed or injured in London's traffic are asking their editors now why something isn't done to protect the lions and giraffes from the ravages of the automobile.

Hunters cruise the Serengeti Plains of Tanganyiki in motor cars, it is alleged, chasing their quarry for miles and administering the fatal shot after the fleeing animal is practically dead from over-exertion.

The game law of the territory prohibits shooting from automobiles, but the contention of the protestants is that the government is "indifferent" as to its enforcement.

PRINCE OF LIPPE IS FINED FOR FREE TALK

Glogau, August 24 (AP).—Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Lippe has been sentenced here to a fine of $125 or one month's imprisonment for having declared that "it has become proverbial now that to become a cabinet minister one must first have sat in prison or at least have earned that distinction."

Although the prince insisted that he meant no offense to present German cabinet members by this assertion, it was found by the court to be contrary to the provisions of the Safeguarding the Republic Act.

The judge, in order to prevent hard feelings, reduced the fine to $75 because of the prince's "reduced circumstances".

PIERRE MENROTTE MAKES THEATRE CURTAIN SPEECH

Pierre Menrotte, director of the Woodstock Ensemble music organization, and concertmaster of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York city, made a curtain speech at the recent Music Concert held at the Woodstock Playhouse, on the grounds of the Country Club. Mr. Menrotte's announcement was a brief explanation of the Benefit Concert to be held on Sunday night, August 25th at 8:45 p. m. at the Woodstock Playhouse.

"This benefit performance," said the concert master, "is to raise money to purchase a Steinway piano to be used for the new Woodstock Ensemble, and this piano will belong to the music lovers who attend our weekly music concerts."

"Several years ago, while I was playing in San Francisco, I conceived the idea of organizing a trio to play chambre music in Woodstock. Later on I made plans for a quartette to give serious music programs in Woodstock. Now, this season, it has been made possible, by the building of this delightful little theatre on the grounds of the Country Club, to have organized a music organization which we call 'The Woodstock Ensemble.' So you see that dreams come true, and I ask you all to help with the coming big show for next Sunday night, so all the people who love music can enjoy it here, in this house, with a piano as good as the excellent instruments the ensemble musicians use here each week."

"Bear in mind that this piano will not belong to me, or to any organization, but to the people who hear it."

"I want to caution you,—so many fine artists will be here Sunday night, that you should get tickets in advance. They will be $1.50 at S. Cohen's Sons, Kingston, or The News Shop, Woodstock,—or if you wait too long, it will cost you $2.00 at the box office."

Mr. Henrotte's speech was received with a round of applause from enthusiastic members of the Playhouse audience last Tuesday night.

MEXICAN PEONS WAGE TOO SMALL FOR LIVING

Mexico City, Aug. 24 (AP).—Publication of the industrial survey made by the Department of Industry, Commerce and Labor showed that the daily average wage of peons in more than 400 sections of the country ranged from 12 to 25 cents in American money.

Furthermore the report showed that about 35 per cent of the laboring class was required to toil beyond the legal limit of working hours daily and that it was those who worked longest that received the least.

The investigators report stated flatly that the small pay given to workers was insufficient for bare living under present conditions in Mexico, even though food which the peons eat is usually cheap.

Labor conditions were found to be worse in the mountainous mining regions and in some isolated agricultural sections. In the somewhat more advanced industrial sections it was revealed that workers received slightly more pay, though barely enough for existence.

Germans Warn Cities To Prepare For Chemical Warfare From Air

By J. A. BOUMAN,
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Munich, August 24 (AP).—That chemical warfare on a large scale is certainly coming, and the nations of the world had better make up their minds to face facts squarely, was the gist of a resolution passed by the German Society for Protection Against Air Attacks when it met here.

Professors of Chemistry, military authorities and fire fighting experts were assembled to consider ways and means to counteract the air menace.

Germany, speakers pointed out, is by its geographical position open to air attacks from all sides.

Dr. Kern, of the Carinthian Anti-Air Attack Association, said that there existed about 100 different kinds of war poisons, but only about ten of them were known to the general public; the blister-raising, the corrosive, the nerve-paralyzing and the tear gases. To all of these, he said, there exist antidotes, but the necessity remains to know them all and to be prepared for all.

Prof. Carl Hegler of St. Georges Hospital, Hamburg, related his experiences in treating the cases of phosgen poisoning arising from the catastrophe there a year ago. He said that of the 300 victims only ten died, the others being saved by treatment which must be rapid to be effective.

Prof. Robert Pschorr of the Charlottenburg Technical High School said that no gas protection devices could assure 100 per cent safety; neither would a locked door keep out a burglar, but it wold be a reckless procedure to leave doors and windows open, thus making it still easier for the burglar.

Five Chief Stein of Magdeburg spoke of the latest chemical fire-fighting appliances that might be utilized to quench conflagrations caused by incendiary bombs.

Major Grosskreutz, air expert of the former imperial army, said that it was a flight of fancy to imagine enemy bombers coming over "like clouds of locusts". Only a fraction of a country's air force, he argued, could be used effectively at the front. He gave an instance of an air squad which protected the Mannheim-Ludwigshafen industrial area during the World War. Three hundred ascents were made, but only seven times did the German flyers come into contact with the enemy, and only eight enemy planes were brought down—one hit in 37 tries.

Equally exaggerated in his views were the effects of attacks with explosive bombs, experience having shown that to destroy a built-on area of six square miles, 10,000 tons of bombs would be needed, which would require the services of 200 day machines or 100 night machines making 100 attacks each, assuming that each machine was capable of making 100 attacks.

The incendiary bomb, in his opinion, was most to be feared by the unhappy citizens of centers open to air attacks.

St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, Foxhall avenue, the Rev. J. M. Proctor, pastor. Last Sunday was a memorable day in St. Mark's. It was the day set apart for the resetting of the old cornerstone, first laid in 1903. The front yard being later graded, the stone was hid from view, making its elevation and resetting a necessity. The services throughout the day were most helpful. The P. E., Dr. Wilson, preached a very acceptable discourse and in harmony with the occasion. The stone was blessed by the imposition of hands of three ordained ministers, the Revs. A. L. Wilson, P. E.; J. M. Proctor, pastor, E. O. Clarke of the Franklin Street Church. George Johnson, local preacher, who 56 years ago participated in laying the first stone; Mrs. Sarah E. Snyder, representing the trustees, and Mrs. Susan Hannibal, representing the board of stewardesses. At night, George Johnson gave an illuminating address upon origin of the society in 1848, which all present enjoyed. The subscription books that were to be returned, due to some misunderstanding of dates, were not all reported, though several made partial returns. All who now hold unreported books will kindly report this Sunday night without fail, and let those who failed to attend and report their assessment for the trustees' rally, do so this Sunday as the trustees must proceed at once to repair the church roof and lay plans for other needed improvements before cold weather. There will be no service this Sunday in the morning, as the pastor with others is going to Chatham. But the Sunday school will hold its regular session at 1 p. m. At 8 p. m., the regular service. Let everybody attend the evening service and learn what is being contemplated as to the work of the church in the immediate future. Seats free. Strangers welcome.

WEE WILLIE'S WOE IS BLAMED TO FACE THAT "SET HIM OFF"

By EDWARD STANLEY,
(Associated Press Feature Writer.)

Chicago (AP).—Ever so often gangland hatches a hoodlum who is "different"—and he pays for it. His head pops up above the level of his mob and the gendarmes have a merry time trying to poke it off.

Such a lad was Wee Willie Doody, who rose from an obscure beer hustler in "the valley" to spread-eagle on the front pages. He now is settling up his accounts with the law.

"Baby Face", they call him. Not because his countenance is cherubic, or because he is a "tough baby", but because of a doll-like infantile vacuity which is Willie's face and his misfortune. Most gangsters show something in their faces—Doody's is a dead pan.

Brash Willie, only 27, ran wild for a while, then "lammed". But not before he broadcast his hate of the police, that he would never be taken alive. He has several escapes that were near captures and in one dangerously wounded a postal inspector. A price went on his head.

So when Willie came back from Detroit and the police got a tip on his hide-away, they quite naturally expected a bloody afternoon. It turned out to be a field day for the photographers instead.

Twenty detectives, armed with riot guns and pistols, quietly surrounded the apartment house, perched on roofs, stood at alley entrances, accompanied by the inevitable photographers.

Lieut. Walter Storm crept cautious up the back stairway to the third floor, others behind. He rapped. A pretty brunette answered. He brushed by her and into the kitchen where Doody, not fully dressed, was eating breakfast. Two guns within easy reach, Wee Willie, the individualist, did the unexpected. He fell into the lieutenant's arms, while a movie man cranked away!

Thus was the desperate Doody laid low—known as the most vicious and dangerous gunman since "Terrible" Tommy O'Connor and Marty Durkin.

Willie Doody, notorious Chicago gunman, and Lillian Kahler, divorcee, in whose apartment he was captured.

"I knew you wouldn't shoot," he told Storm.

Down to detective headquarters they hustled him, taking the owner of the apartment, Lillian Kahler, pretty divorcee, along for questioning. She protested she didn't know he was Willie but they took her along for luck.

At headquarters it was discovered, with illustrations, that most of the photographers had got lost in the shuffle, so a part of the capture was re-enacted for them.

Doody readily admitted shooting the postal inspector who sought him for a mail robbery, but said he thought he was a hold-up man. The police asked some other questions.

What about Charles Levy, police chief of Berwyn, slain? What about Police Sergeant Falk, clubbed and shot in the back?

Really, said Willie, he didn't know.

Glad to talk about Jackson, but no more. He gave them the Baby Face on the others.

And the best he hopes for now is "Life".

Church And School Notes

(By The Associated Press.)

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP).—A new chapter of the Union College Alumni Association has been organized at Plattsburg with W. H. Ladue of the Class of 1910 as president and Elwyn Freeman of the Class of 1926 as secretary.

A new high school is to be constructed in Schenectady at an estimated cost of $1,400,000 with accommodations for 1,500 pupils. It will be known as the Mont Pleasant High School.

A new school, to be known as the Hemlock Union School, is under construction at Hemlock at a cost of $120,000. C. E. Chauncey is the principal.

"Too many Christians," according to Rev. Dr. Thomas W. Davidson, pastor of Hope Reformed Church of Holland, Mich., "are apt to be neglectful of the pleasanter virtue and go through life in a censorious fault-finding manner."

Preaching on "The Pathway to Higher Power Through Right Living," at the Fort Washington Collegiate Church in New York city, Dr. Davidson declared that "environment may mold the outer man, but it is the inward environment or one's thoughts that mold one's soul."

Admitting that evil thoughts thrust themselves into the minds of men, he continued:

"But let such thoughts be as passing birds of flight and do not allow them to nest in your bosom. Cherish and welcome only the virtuous thoughts and then you will be on the way to higher life and power."

Lieutenant Colonel Wallace Winchell of the Salvation Army in New York city recently declared that the "best sellers" in the book stores are "the slime of sexual dissertations".

Referring to the "so-called intelligentsia", he dubbed them "mental slummers" and continued:

"These highbrows, in their rough-house scramble, hurling big words and high-sounding phraseology at each other, are underthinking to rob men of their precious possessions of faith and truth and eternal hope. Blind leaders of the blind, they are."

"Never before have there been such widespread and persistent efforts by men and women to right the wrongs of religion, society and politics," Gerome Edwards declared in a recent sermon before the Unity Society of Theology in New York city.

Improved Road Machines Decrease Paving Costs

With modern road building methods, asphalt spreaders (above) eliminate hand raking methods of a few years ago. Concrete mixers moving under their own power (below) mix twice the amount of material produced by machines five years ago.

By ALLEN QUINN
(Associated Press Automobile Editor.)

Washington, (AP).—Styles in road building machinery change rapidly and the road builder who fails to keep up to date is left behind.

The road builder today, with large contracts to complete, would not think of using the slow methods and equipment of a few years ago which involved much manual labor. The cost would be too great.

The spreading and finishing of concrete and asphalt and the laying of stone, operations formerly done largely by hand, now are completed more efficiently and more rapidly by machine.

With the increase in production possible as a result of the improvement on highway machinery, the American Road Builders' Association says, has come a corresponding decrease in costs of construction and the public reaps the benefit by paying less per mile for pavement than it did five years ago.

The almost universal adoption of the gasoline engine for powering road building machinery has resulted in more efficient machinery with which tasks can be completed in much less time than formerly.

The number of road building machinery manufacturers has increased greatly in the last decade in response to the demand for larger and more efficient equipment to keep pace with the vast construction programs.

Highway contractors have increased rapidly in numbers and, with keen competition and falling prices, the necessity for increased production has called for machinery of much greater speed and efficiency.

Surfacing, production and quality of pavements have improved with the improvement in the design of machinery, the road association points out. Concrete mixers have capacities of twice those of five years ago, and concrete is better mixed.

New machines spread, tamp and smooth the concrete after it has been poured, resulting in construction of higher quality and greater smoothness.

The old hand-raking method of laying asphalt pavements has given way to machines which spread and smooth the material for rollers and produce a better quality pavement than did the older methods.

Even grading and preparing the road bed, formerly done largely by horse drawn equipment, now is rushed with power machines which scoop the earth, load it on trucks and smooth the surface.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Yonkers, N. Y.—John E. Aucrus, millionaire who rides to work on the subway, dislikes these new fangled small $1 bills. "They stick together so tightly," he says, "that it is easy to pass out an extra one." He passed out four for a $3 purchase. Now he is to carry few, it say, his credit being good.

New York—Coatless men are forbidden to ride in the elevators of the garment tower, a skyscraper devoted to wholesalers of women's wear.

New York—The annual intake of "financial speakeasies" is estimated at $56,000,000 by Edward S. Silver, assistant Federal attorney. He means bucket shops and the like.

Washington—William J. H. Strong of Chicago is president of an association which proposes to hunt for Noah's Ark. The association asked the State Department to help it get permission from Turkey. It was told to apply to the Turkish Embassy.

Berlin—In his 82nd year President Von Hindenburg is an active hunter. After climbing a mountain in fog and rain in Bavaria he bagged two chamois.

New York—Up rises Mrs. Charlee A. Vallee with a snappy comeback to Bert Lown, who is suing her son, Rudy, jazz favorite. Lown said he found out that Rudy was clever and showed him how to make money. "So this man Lown said he detected the kid's class, did he?" asked Mrs. Vallee. "Well, I made that same discovery 25 years ago."

White Plains, N. Y.—Mrs. Frances Ryan, whose husband dislikes radios, is seeking a separation. She avers he threw the tubes of her new set on the floor, then bought a hammer and chisel and macked it so it could not be repaired.

New York—The conductorless symphony orchestra is to have women members, but they will be shown no special favors. They will not precede men to their seats. The orchestra sits with backs to the audience.

Gibraltar—It might be well for soldier mariners to take along a football. The steamship Bulgarian has brought to port a pigskin thrown from the 46-foot Ketch Carlsark and containing letters to be forwarded. Carl L. Wagenant of Douglaston, N. Y., skipper of the Ketch, was Cornell football manager last year.

New York—Good show on WHAT at 10 p. m. standard time. Reinald Werrenrath and Lois Bennett will sing for Byrd.

Honey First Sweetener

Sugar is a comparatively recent addition to the household store. Until 100 years ago it was a luxury, and was not available commercially to anyone until the Fourteenth century. Honey was its predecessor as a sweetening agent, while maple sugar was known to the Indians in some parts of North America.

DRINKING DRYS.

Americans who venerate Congress individually as well as collectively are likely to be startled when they read Mrs. Willebrandt's disclosures in regard to the drinking in that august assemblage by the people's representatives. As the former Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition cases, Mrs. Willebrandt had abundant opportunity to learn what is going on, and this part of her published discussion of the "inside of prohibition enforcement" is perhaps more important than any other. She frankly declares that there are "many" dry members of both Houses of Congress who are "persistent violators of the Volstead act". In giving instances, she tells of an unnamed Senator who blocked the passage of important legislation "while in such a condition of intoxication that he had to hold to his desk to keep himself upright".

She relates that a dry Congressman (supposed to be Mr. Michaelson of Illinois) came to prohibition headquarters to demand the release of baggage which customs inspectors in Florida had found to contain a keg of rum and a dozen bottles of assorted liquors. She writes of bootleggers actually "infesting the halls and corridors of Congress and plying their trade there", and notes the difficulty of obtaining a warrant to search those sacrosanct precincts. And she asserts: "I have found a curious impression or state of mind among members of Congress and other government officials that they are above and beyond the inhibitions of the prohibition law." Such disclosures from an expert long on the inside of things inevitably suggests the question: Can much be expected of the public generally when the law is "persistently violated" by so many of its hypocritical authors, too many of whom are recklessly "soaking wet"?

CIGARETTES AND FIRES.

It is estimated that there is an annual loss from fires in this country alone of $30,000,000 due to the carelessness of smokers, and it is obvious that the greater part of the damage is done by cigarettes that continue to burn after being thrown away. Small wonder that hotel keepers in French towns put up notices urgently requesting "Messieurs les voyageurs" (tourists) not to throw their cigarettes out of the windows because of the danger of setting fire to inflammable material. There is the same danger in this country, especially during prolonged drought, from lighted cigarettes thrown out of automobiles or the windows of steam-train smokers. In consequence the Bureau of Standards has been experimenting for months with the object of finding a cigarette that will go out as soon as smoking has ceased.

It seems that many experiments were made on the last inch of the cigarette with a view to render it non-incendiary, and a "safety cigarette" has been evolved with an inch tip of cork "lined with water-glass air-excluding silicate". General use of this self-extinguishing cigarette would, it is stated, reduce the fire hazard about 90 per cent. This would be a great gain, but the obvious difficulty is to induce cigarette smokers to substitute the "safety" for their favorite brands, a difficulty the greater because many experienced smokers have long shunned the cork-tipped cigarette already on the market, claiming that they are more heating to the lips or tongue and mingle the taste of burning cork with the taste of tobacco when fully smoked.

CAPTIVE ANIMALS

Many visitors to a zoo are apt to see what looks like the weariness and discontent of prisoners in the eyes of the captive wild animals and to be moved to pity for them, denied and so far from the freedom of their native jungles. But this is wasted sympathy, according to a contributor to the Nature Magazine for September, who unexpectedly declares that the life of wild animals in a zoo is not unhappy. Indeed, he asserts that many a zoo resident lives a happier and longer life than would have been his in his native wilds. "The life of a properly kept zoo animal," he writes, "might be more justly compared with that in a hotel rather than in a prison"—the service being excellent and the keeper being his friend, ready to pull out a thorn, trim an ingrowing claw, stop fights and bind up wounds. Most animals, it is stated, readily adapt themselves to life in a cage and are soon inclined to run back to it for protection.

Such an argument suggests a persuasion that animals suffer less than might be supposed, even lack of sympathy for them rather than certain knowledge of their nature and reactions. But the writer displays both affection and seeming understanding. He invites suspicion of the lack of both, however, when he says that "liberty, unaccompanied by an income and a technique for living, is not an unmixed blessing for human beings" (recalling the view of old-time advocates of human slavery), and adds that for animals the problem is much the same. On the whole the interesting view of the Nature Magazine's writer may be said to lack what is needed to make it entirely convincing.

A new office building 58 stories high is to be erected opposite the New York public library at Fifth Avenue and 42d street, which inspires the Charleston News and Courier to observe that "the low estate of learning in New York will thus be made an object lesson to the proletariat."

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY

IS GOLF HEALTHFUL.

What about golf for everybody?

Within a few weeks seven players dropped dead on the golf links of Great Britain.

And this is the game that is jokingly referred to as "an old man's game." This despite the fact that the majority of recent champions have been in their twenties.

Is the game really hard on you from a physical standpoint? Much depends on your makeup.

If you are of the leisurely type and do not take your golf seriously, don't rush from hole to hole, then the outdoors, the exercise, and the mental enjoyment will make golf of great benefit to you.

If, however, you take golf very seriously, rush your work through to get to the links early, keep your mind and body tense as you try to remember all the suggestions given you by the club professional—the position of the feet, the grasp of the club, the position of the body, with all the other little details—then instead of being a benefit your golf may be doing you harm.

Don't misunderstand me: you have to learn golf as you had to learn to walk, to ride a bicycle, or a horse. It all meant concentration of mind and coordination of muscles. It all tired you until you learned to do these things automatically without thought on your part.

You cover a considerable distance and do a lot of work when you play a game of golf; the distance itself with some hills and the search for lost balls, all means effort.

My thought is that boys, girls, young men, young women, old men and women may all safely play golf if they will remember that there is considerable physical work in playing golf and govern themselves accordingly.

Middle aged and elderly folks who are just taking up golf, should play only a few holes at a time, as the mental strain of learning to play golf is just the same as in other games, and when the brain is used in an exercise fatigue comes on sooner. After a game of any kind is learned and the brain therefore not used so much, it is really only the muscles that get tired, and play may be continued for a longer period.

"NO COGNAC" FRENCH PRESIDENT TELLS MIKE.

Verdun, August 24 (AP).—Supersensitive microphones gave France a good laugh during the very solemn ceremony attending the celebration of the "Rebirth of Verdun".

The president of the republic, the premier, seven cabinet ministers, five ambassadors, the Archbishop of Besancon and the Bishop of Verdun had sat down to the official luncheon.

Coffee time had come and a million or more radio sets were tuned to listen to the address of President Doumergue, at the left of whom now stood M. Becq de Fouquieres, chief of the protocol. With bated breath France waited the words of the president. What it heard was this:

"No cognac in my coffee, Fouquieres, you know it hurts me."

IRISH FIGHT EMPIRE RULE OF SENIORITY

Dublin, August 24 (AP).—The Irish Free State intends to contest Australia's candidature for a seat on the Council of the League of Nations.

This is not because of any objection to Australia but as a protest against the practice which gives diplomatic precedence to the various members of the British Commonwealth according to their seniority. Canada ranks first and Australia next.

The Free State Government officials regard this distinction as irreconcilable with the principle of absolute equality as laid down at the last Imperial Conference in London. They object, therefore, to the automatic succession of Australia to Canada and will put forward a claim for the seat for the Free State Government.

Big Tax Cut Promised France.

Paris, August 24 (AP).—A tax cut of $60,000,000 is contemplated by Henri Cheron, finance minister, in his 1930 budget. Because the tax yield this year has been far in excess of estimates, he proposes to make some of the cuts effective at once.

Tokyo, Aug. 24 (AP).—Prince Chichibu, brother of the emperor and heir presumptive to the Japanese throne, missed his summer vacation this year. Instead he spent forty days training at the camp of the Fifth Field Artillery.

Death Treasure

By R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Pell was murdered—and not one of seven witnesses to his death could tell who fired the fatal shot. Inspector Wayne's search of all fails to retrieve a pistol. No one else has been in the room, where Pell played his dramatic scene climaxed by death—his threatening of Parson Harling, most bitter of Pell's five enemies among the seven. Pell's promise to produce a "ghost." The police grasp eagerly at a startling theory—that Pell was shot through the keyhole as he stooped to unbolt the door. Another mystery—Professor Laxton knocked unconscious by an unseen assailant in the corridor. Tom Grenofen returns home from the death-scene and finds Mrs. Seabroke with a peculiar request—one that involves her daughter, Veronica, whom Grenofen loves.

Chapter 13

A WOMAN'S INTRIGUE

MRS. Seabroke's peculiar agitation and strange request were uppermost in my thoughts during dinner. My mother did not appear to observe my abstraction and did not mention Newplace until she had seen me well through my food. Then—

"That Professor Laxton——" she said. "He seems a remarkable man. Is he coming back here tonight?"

That was a startling possibility which had not occurred to me. But I thought not. When the police had finished with him, Laxton would probably go to the inn where he had left his car, or he might even drive back to London.

"M'yes," said my mother, "he is a night-bird, isn't he?"

So at least one person knew of our escapade the night before!

I got away at half past nine and walked out through the sand dunes to the little cliffs past the Seabrokes'. I had no reluctance to meet Veronica, whatever the occasion. But the more I reflected upon Mrs. Seabroke's commission, the stranger it appeared.

First, if Veronica had been visiting in Hollam Bay the most natural thing for her to do would be to take the train to Blackwater. Ruling out the train, a taxi. Ruling out both, to walk home by the road, which was three miles shorter. Walking seven miles round the coast as a late evening excursion was, to say the least, eccentric.

But I should not have boggled over it save for Mrs. Seabroke's manner of making the request. And I should have forgotten all about both if I had met Veronica at 10 o'clock stepping out in her customary business-like style. The meeting with Veronica was very different.

On the 25th of June, not far off the longest day of the year, 10 o'clock at night is broad daylight. At the very turn where I had stopped in the morning I looked ahead and saw Veronica standing on the cliff, as if she had never moved since. She must have seen me again quite plainly, but again she made no movement. This time I walked on and up to her.

Veronica held out her hand.

"Your mother told me," said I, "you'd be coming back this way. She asked me to meet you and tell you a rather sad and startling bit of news——"

"About poor Mr. Pell, I suppose?" said Veronica, amazing me. "Oh, it's all over the place."

"Even in Hollam Bay already?"

"I daresay—well, yes of course. In Hollam Bay. Has father got back yet?"

"Undoubtedly."

Veronica looked across the estuary.

"I told mother you were an understanding person, Mr. Grenofen."

"Mrs. Seabroke was good enough to pass on the compliment, but this evening I feel that I deserve it less than ever. Believe me, Miss Seabroke, I understand nothing. In 24 hours since I saw you back there, half a dozen astounding things have happened and I comprehend not one of them."

"But," said Veronica, "you understand enough to realise when two women are in grievous trouble, don't you?"

"I hope I should never fail a woman in trouble, Miss Seabroke."

Veronica looked me straight in the eyes.

"I don't think you ever would. But do you think I am capable of asking you to do anything wrong?—morally wrong, I mean."

"No," I answered, "I don't think you would ask me to do anything you considered morally wrong."

Veronica looked along the path right and left, and back over the cliff waste behind us.

"Mr. Grenofen," she said, "I've had a man concealed near by."

"I am not surprised—I saw him this morning. He dodged down a moment too late."

"You were not nearly so understanding this morning as you are now," said she.

I gaped for an instant, and then it broke on me.

"Your mother——"

"Didn't say where you could find me for nothing. But you didn't come on. So I couldn't tell you. And since then——"

Veronica's compelling blue eyes pleaded for her mysterious fugitive.

Her breast heaved.

"Mr. Grenofen," she went on, "I'm going to ask you to take me on trust and help this man. I wish you not to see him—simply because I don't want you to be compelled to lie about him."

It may even be that if Veronica had said to me bluntly, "Look here, I'm concealing a murderer and I want you to help me," I should have answered "Righto!"

But she did not put it that way; if I had sought a crafty excuse for my conduct, I could have said to myself, "Veronica never told me anything about this man, and how was I to know?"

Still it was useless to try to justify oneself. The coincidences of this endless day were too powerful. Accordingly I disregarded all ulterior consequences and satisfied myself with the gratitude of Veronica's blue eyes.

What did it matter? The Seabrokes might have had some connection with Pell in the past. The Seabrokes might be mixed up with the mysterious person whom we called Pell's ghost.

The very man I was now asked to protect might have lurked that afternoon in the dark passage to Fotherbury's wine cellar. And still I should have put my confidence in Veronica's blue eyes.

Even so, the next thing she said was startling.

"I want to ask you, if you go home and find your mother entertaining an old friend of her family of whom you've never heard, not to look astonished, but just fall in with everything and pick up every cue."

"At Woodcot?" I gasped when I realized the intention of this.

"Yes, at Woodcot."

"My mother!" I gasped.

"Yes, your mother. She's a trump. She's even more understanding than her son."

So my mother was in it! This monstrous conspiracy of women! First, Mrs. Seabroke's unwonted perturpation, her strange request. Then Veronica—her hidden companion—her unusual conduct all day. And finally—my mother a party to this intrigue. The ghost of Roger Pell had started to dog my foot-steps, to haunt the dreams that formerly concerned themselves only with Veronica Seabroke's blue eyes.

AROUND THE WORLD

Angouleme, France, Aug. 24 (AP).—Four persons who appropriated parts of a wrecked airplane near here as souvenirs were arrested and given jail sentences. One man got six days for taking the fuel tank, a woman got four days for taking the dead flier's scarf and two men got two days for breaking off parts of the fuselage.

Berne, Switzerland (AP)—Just about every other imported automobile in Switzerland is American made. Last year, for the first time, American automobiles were more than half of those imported. Three years ago it was one in four.

Stamboul, Turkey (AP).—A miracle of modernization is how a recent bicycle ride of a Moslem priest here was described.

Turkish priests often ride in solemn dignity upon the backs of donkeys but this was the first recorded case of a "Hodja" on a bicycle.

Tiflis, Georgia (AP).—A scientific expedition headed by Professor Nikoladse is in preparation to make a geographic survey of Mount Elbrus in the central part of the Caucasian mountain ridge. A meteorological station will be established on top of the mount at an elevation of 17,515 feet.

Hamilton, Bermuda (AP).—Dr. William Beebe, noted naturalist, who is spending the summer at Nonsuch Island, in deep-sea exploration, has caught so many deep-sea fish that they number hundreds of varieties. Never satisfied with his enormous finds on the ocean floor. He is reported by local scientists to be searching for an elusive fish that is its own mother.

Berlin (AP).—An organization of students from all the high schools of Berlin has been formed to furnish young college men as guides to foreign and provincial visitors to the German capital.

Andros Island, Bahamas (AP).—Natives who follow the ancient custom of fishing with bows and arrows inhabit this island. The ancient pottery and relics found in the island caves make this an ideal hunting ground for antiquarians.

Berlin (AP).—Automobile driving, which until recently was considered rather "unladylike" in Germany, is rapidly gaining popularity with women. The number of women obtaining licenses in Berlin has more than doubled in the past two years.

Augsburg (AP).—Former Crown Princess Antonia of Bavaria, whose marriage in Luxemburg to Crown Prince Rupprecht was a war-time romance, recently saved two tourists from drowning in the Alpsee, a mountain lake near here. Single handed she rowed a skiff to their aid when a gust of wind upset their improvised sail boat.

SOUTH RONDOUT.

South Rondout, Aug. 24.—The services in the M. E. Church for Sunday are as follows: Sunday school 9:30 a. m. The lesson is "Rebuilding the Temple." James K. Wesley, superintendent. Morning preaching service 10:30. Evening service 7:30, with sermon at both services by the Rev. S. Ardron.

Mrs. Lewis Depew and son, Lawrence, of New York, and Lawrence Walsh of Kingston, called on Mr. and Mrs. John McNeils at their home on Connelly Heights.

Mrs. Delia Richards of Kingston and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herb of Canada were visitors on Monday to Mrs. Frank O'Neil, who is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Lawler.

The Hiltebrant Dry Dock Company is starting work in their boat yard at 5 a. m. instead of 7 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. White and Mrs. Mabel Smith of Washington Heights were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hamman and son, William Hamman, Jr., and brother, Albert Hamman, after an extensive trip through Canada and the Adirondack Mountains, by automobile, stopped on their way home and called on their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Scherer, of Connelly Heights, and after a most enjoyable week-end, returned to their home.

A Toast.

Here's to the girl who steals, lies and swears:
Steals into your arms,
Lies there,
And swears she'll never love another.

Some of the busiest people in the world are only picking up the beans they spilled.

We should never be to old or too proud to profit by the experience of others.

"How is your companionate marriage working out?"

"Terrible—I've lost my wife's address."

If we get out of life what we put into it some will get out quick.

"DOWN ON THE FARM."

Down on the farm about half past four,
I put on my pants and rushed out the door,
Out in the yard and run like the dickens
To milk the cows and feed the chickens,
Clean out the barn, curry Nance and Jiggs,
Separate the cream and slop the pigs,
Work two hours, eat like a turk and then by heck,
I'm ready for a full day's work.

Then I grease the wagon, put on the rack,
Throw a jug of water in an old grain sack,
Hitch up the horses, hustle down the lane,
Look up yonder, sure as I'm born,
The cattle are on the rampage, the cows are in the corn.
Out across the meadow, run a mile or two,
Heaving like wind-broke and wet clean through,
Nance is straddled the barbed-wire fence,
Joints all aching, muscles in a jerk, and by heck,
I'm all ready for a full day's work.

Worked all summer, winter draws nigh,
I figures up the books and heave a sigh,
Worked all summer, ain't made a thing,
Got less cash than I had last spring,
Some folks say there ain't no hell,
But they never farmed it so they can tell.
Spring rolls 'round, I take another chance,
While the fringe grows longer on my old gray pants,
I hitch up my suspenders, give my belt a jerk, and by heck
I'm all ready for a full year's work.

Early American Architect

The first professional architect in America was Peter Harrison. He probably arrived in this country in 1740. While engaged in designing the Redwood library at Newport, R. I., he was invited to prepare plans for the rebuilding of King's chapel, Boston. In 1761 Harrison built the brick Market house at Newport, R. I., afterward used for a city hall. He died in New Haven April 30, 1775, at the age of fifty-nine.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 24 (AP).—Rampant bullish activity centering in the steel, communications and chemical shares raged unchecked in today's two-hour session of the stock market. Week-end profit-taking did not fail to make its appearance, but for the most part was readily absorbed.

More than three dozen issues reached record levels, including such leading stocks as United States Steel, American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, International Telephone, American Can, and United States Industrial Alcohol. Gains ran to a maximum of 10 points in Allied Chemical.

The market wavered for a moment at the opening, United States Steel slipping three points, but bulls quickly regained control of the situation. Realizing in the final half hour, however, was heavy enough to cause several recessions from the day's best levels and a sprinkling of stocks sagged below yesterday's close.

There was practically nothing in the day's news to forecast a change from the satisfactory conditions in most lines.

There was no money market today, yesterday's 7 per cent call loan rate carrying over the week-end. Somewhat firmer money is expected next week, with the approach of the end of the month.

Republic Steel assumed leadership in the steel shares, selling up more than 8 points to a new peak above 125. Heavy buying was attributed to forecasts of high earnings from its new welded pipe process. United States Steel, after its early decline, rallied to a new peak above 260, and Bethlehem Steel mounted, about a point to a new peak above 140.

American Telephone, International Telephine and Western Union reached new tops but Radio failed to follow, slipping two points.

Other strong points were Ingersoll-Rand, United States Freight, Pacific Gas and Electric, Shattuck, Underwood Elliott, Allis Chalmers, American Smelting and Consolidated gas.

Among the sprinkling of soft spots, Westinghouse and DuPont, which soared in spectacular fashion yesterday, slipped about four points in profit-taking. Such shares as Johns Manville, New York Central, Hershey Chocolate, Gold Dust, Gillette and American International lost a point or two. People's Gas, a volatile issue, tumbled about 12 points.

Local Death Record

Leland Yager died Thursday in New York city. Interment in Wiltwyck cemetery Sunday upon the arrival of the 1:45 p. m. West Shore train.

West Shokan, Aug. 24.—Old neighbors and lifelong friends of Mrs. Caroline Every Van Aken of Roxbury were saddened to learn of her unexpected death which occurred on Wednesday, August 14. The funeral was held at the Methodist Church at Ashokan on Saturday, the interment being in the Cold Brook Cemetery beside her daughter, Mae, and former husband, Martin Every. She is survived by her husband, Lewis Van Aken, and son, Herman, of Roxbury. Mrs. Every, as she was familiarly known during her long residence in old West Shokan and later in Ashokan, was a good neighbor and friend ever ready to give a helping hand in time of sickness or need. She, likewise her husband, was a great friend to the school children of old West Shokan and many a one received a mother's attention from kind hearted Mrs. Every, being called in to get warm during the cold of winter, or receiving first aid treatment from the more or less minor injuries received at school, or if hungry, a generous helping of warm molasses cake or some tasty tid-bits. These kindnesses are never to be forgotten by the now long grown up school children, who truly are saddened by the passing of this good friend of their childhood days. Of Mr. Every are recalled his hunting encounters, or his experiences in the Civil War, as open eyed boys would gather about him at noon time or after school and listen in rapt admiration to the tales of this kindly old gentleman.

KINGSTONIAN HAS POEM IN SATURDAY EVENING POST

In the "Poet's Corner" of this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post there appears a little poem entitled "Lines to a New England Housewife" which is both discerning and appealing. The author is Olga Owens, (Mrs. Stuart Huckins) daughter of Mrs. Minnie Owens of this city and for several years a Kingston girl.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Aug. 24.—The fair and supper at the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening proved to be an outstanding event, the attendance being much larger than anticipated. The gross receipts were over $200, some $94 being taken in at the supper tables, and practically all of the quilts and fancy articles were disposed of. All of the guests to the number of 25 or more from the Maple Dell were served at a reserved section of the tables over which hung a neatly embroidered banner with the words "Maple Dell Farm". Much credit is due the Ladies' Aid and the able corps of volunteer helpers in putting on the affair and catering to the unexpected crowd in so efficient a manner.

Ernie Constable has been real busy of late at home digging a well, as due to the continued aridity his ever sparkling spring has almost failed. Ernie diligently applied himself to the task and at a depth of but seven feet was rewarded by striking water veins in abundance, when suddenly without warning the gravelly sides suddenly crumpled, almost burying the digger. However, Ernie finally extricated himself and again set himself at the rather discouraging work of re-excavation, which has been completed and the well walled up, and there is water in abundance.

One of the gentlemen guests at the Traver Hollow Inn on Wednesday morning was stricken with a paralytic stroke and died on Thursday. Deceased was 42 years of age and had been stopping at the Inn for the past five weeks.

On Thursday evening Donald Bishop entertained at "bridge" a party of young acquaintances who are summering in our locality.

Judge and Mrs. Fred L. Weidner, accompanied by a party of friends, attended the Ellenville Fair on Thursday.

A number of neighbors have been giving Raymond Miller a helping hand this week putting in his hay. Among these are Jordan brothers and Elwin Davis with their teams, Francis Every with his Ford truck, also Egbert Van Kleeck.

West Shokan sent a large representative delegation to the repetition of the play, "Down in Maine", so successfully put on by the Grange players at Mt. Tremper Hall on Tuesday evening.

Chase Davis is busying himself after the harvest season at brush cutting in the pasture lots. He is an old hand at such work and cuts them down to the first joint.

The party of city visitors who have been stopping for the past week at Mrs. Watson Bishop's, left on Friday for a week-end visit with friends in Germantown, before returning to New York.

Cornelia Davis is not feeling well at this writing.

Professor and Mrs. Condon were Wednesday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shephard Bell, of the West Shokan Inn.

The summer vacation will soon be over and the children hieing themselves to school.

Funeral of Marvel Crosson.

San Diego, Cal., Aug. 24 (AP).—A simple service was held here yesterday for Marvel Crosson, San Diego flier, who was killed when her plane, entered in the Cleveland air derby, crashed on the Arizona desert Monday. The Rev. Frank Linder, pastor, who conducted the service, referred to the youthful buoyancy of the girl flier.

Weather Forecast For Coming Week

Weather for week beginning Monday:

North and Middle Atlantic States—A period of showers Tuesday or Wednesday and again toward the end of the week. Cool at beginning of week, with moderately warm weather thereafter until the end of week, when cool weather is again indicated.

RUTH ELDER ENGAGED TO MARRY WALTER CAMP, JR.

Los Angeles, Aug. 24 (AP).—The Examiner in a copyrighted story today says that Ruth Elder, the first woman to attempt to fly the Atlantic Ocean and an entrant in the Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland air derby, is engaged to marry Walter Camp, Jr., son of the late athletic mentor at Yale.

The newspaper says that Camp, who is president of the Inspiration Pictures, Inc., is now enroute to New York to make arrangements for the wedding, which will take place there a week after the completion of the women's air derby, scheduled to terminate Monday.

Miss Elder gave Camp her answer by long distance telephone from San Bernardino, Cal., the first stop of the flight, after he had proposed just before her takeoff from Santa Monica last Sunday, the newspaper says.

Both Miss Elder and Camp have been married. Miss Elder was recently divorced from Lyle Womack, who claimed that aviation had taken his wife away from him. Camp has been divorced for several years.

BODY OF MURDERESS UNCLAIMED BY CHILDREN

Hull, Que., Aug. 24 (AP).—Unclaimed by any of her eight children, the body of Marie Viau lay in Hull jail today, awaiting burial in a nearby potter's field.

The 43-year-old woman, hanged with Philibert Lefebvre, 32, for the poisoning of her husband, Zephyr Viau, spent the hours before she mounted the gallows writing last messages to each of her children, to her mother and other relatives. All letters remained unanswered.

Lefebvre's body was claimed by his father an hour after it was removed from the scaffold.

Theatrical Folk Visit Woodstock

Ralph Patterson, Movie Architect, and Morris Gest, Movie Producer, Are Patrons for Coming Musical Revue.

Since the announcement that there would be a large benefit concert at the Woodstock Playhouse, on the grounds of the Country Club, for Sunday night, August 25th, there have been a number of New Yorkers who have come forward to offer professional assistance.

The coming concert will be in the nature of a gigantic musical revue, with a varied bill of entertainment including acting, singing, music, dancing and whistling numbers.

Foremost among the patrons for the revue is Ralph Patterson, chief scenic architect for Warner Brothers, moving picture producers in New York city. Mr. Patterson, who is spending the month of August in Woodstock, has donated a large symphony orchestra for Sunday night's entertainment, which will be conducted by Pierre Henrotte, concertmaster at the Metropolitan Opera House. Mr. Patterson will also direct and produce the special scenic effects to be used on the Playhouse stage. Mr. Patterson recently featured in metropolitan papers for a sensational divorce case, which allowed him a third of a million dollars as settlement; he has a most of influential friends among theatrical people, and expects to bring a number of celebrities to Woodstock for next Sunday night.

Another patron is Morris Gest, famous theatrical producer, who visited Woodstock last week and has contributed special lighting effects for the coming musical revue at the Playhouse. Mr. Gest has stated to David Reasoner, director of the Playhouse Theatre, that he considers the little theatre unique, the stage equipment excellent, and that he sees no reason why this new Playhouse, with the talent presented, cannot be one of the high spots of the American stage.

More Tourists Visit Italy.

Rome, Aug. 24 (AP).—An increase of about two per cent in the number of foreign visitors landing at Italian ports in May of this year was reported by the national tourist agency, run under government auspices. The first five months of the year saw 41,677 foreigners land, as against 38,000 for the corresponding period of 1928. Americans were 39 per cent of this total.

AMERICAN MONEY LOANED FOR RAIL ROUTE IN SERBIA

Belgrade, Aug. 24 (AP).—Although all railroads in Jugo-Slavia are state-owned and state-built, a departure has been made made by the Pozharevatz District Government, which has, with the permission of the Minister of Finance, concluded a loan direct with an American group for the construction of railways in its area.

The loan amounts to $5,000,000 par value. Interest will be at seven per cent which is considered moderate in view of financial conditions.

The money will be used for a normal-gauge line from Pozharevatz to the Danube, which will later be joined by a bridge with the Rumanian railway system and will provide a new link between Western Europe, Belgrade and Rumania. A narrow gauge line will also be built to join Pozharevatz with the narrow gauge system of western Serbia and Bosnia, and this will give the Danube basin a new outlet to the Adriatic through the ports of Dubrovnik and the Kotor Estuary.

This loan is regarded as another indication of the great interest which foreign money is beginning to take in Jugo-Slavia which has vast potential wealth awaiting capital. The French are draining marshes and exploiting water power; the British have offered loans for the construction of electric generating stations, for the paving and drainage of Belgrade and for railway construction; Germans are building the Panchevo bridge, which will be the longest span over the Danube.

Many other foreign groups are interested in the rich mines of Southern Serbia.

POWERS OF PRIVY COUNCIL IRKSOME TO IRISH LEADERS.

Dublin, August 24 (AP).—There is one important political issue on which President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State and Eamon De Valera are in complete accord. They agree that the last word in all legal decisions should rest with the Supreme Court of the saorstat.

But, though the constitution declares that the Supreme Court decisions shall not be reviewed by any other authority, there is a provision also in the Constitution, in accordance with the treaty with England, that nothing shall impair the right of any person to petition the King or special leave to appeal to his Majesty in Council or the right of his Majesty to grant such leave.

This means that the Free State Supreme Court does not really have the last word. And the King's decision as to whether an appeal should be allowed is not guided by the advice of Irish minisetrs, but directly by the Privy Council.

This is felt to be a restriction on Irish freedom, and the Free State government has countered it by refusing to take part in proceedings before the Privy Council in London. When a litigant has insisted on going there, the government has defeated him by passing a special act of parliament dealing with the point in dispute.

All parties concur in this course save the old Unionist party, which desires to maintain the British connecton.

NEW FRENCH RENT LAW HITS FOREIGNERS HARD.

By J. EDWARD ANGLY.
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Paris, August 24 (AP).—Foreigners living in France are out of luck under the new rent law recently put into effect. Only those who served with allied armies in the war have the same standing before the law as French tenants. The others, and they form the majority, are left largely to the landlord's mercy.

They can be turned out into the street when their leases expire, whereas the French tenant is given a prorogation of his tenancy, the duration of which varies in indirect proportion to his rent. Those living in expensive apartments have two to three years in which to look for another place, while villagers who pay only a few hundred francs a year for their lodgings can hold on eight or ten years more, laughing the while at the landlord.

Not so for the foreigner. If the owner tells him to pack up and leave, he must do just that. If he wants to stay, he is likely to pay the price the owner demands. For others the rent is fixed, in old houses at 150 per cent above the 1914 figure, but not for him. He signs the dotted line prepared by the landlord, or sends for a van.

Meanwhile the average French tenant sits tight. His rent is being raised this summer, it is true, but if he pays the new legal advance in the price of his lodgings, no landlord can budge him, whatever others may offer for his apartment.

In a way, the law has been a grim joke on the foreign ex-soldier. The average landlord would rather have an ex-enemy as a tenant than an ex-ally, for he can't get rid of the latter once he turns over the keys to the front door.

YOUNG ITALIANS SEE PARENTS' HOMELAND.

Rome, August 24 (AP).—The annual pilgrimage of thousands of children of Italian parents resident abroad has begun. By September more than 5,000 children will have come from most of the countries of Europe and from the United States to spend a few weeks at the sea or mountain resorts of Italy.

There were 4,800 youngsters for the first period of vacation. They came from countries as far distant in Europe as Soviet Russia.

The youngsters are guests in colonies operated by the Women's Fasci, the Balilla (Fascist organization of boys) and the National Organization for Maternity and Infancy. The ministries of foreign affairs and of communications are active in seeing that the children are transported without charge.

These groups of youngsters are organized by the chapters of the Fascist party abroad.

CENTENARIAN NEGRO ON ARGENTINE ARMY LIST

Buenos Aires, Aug. 24 (AP).—A record for military service is claimed by Juan Jeronimo Rodriguez, second lieutenant in the army of the Argentine Republic. He recently celebrated his 107th birthday and is still in active service, although, through some sort of departmental error, his officer's pay has been stopped and the military authorities have neglected to give him an active assignment.

Lieutenant Rodriguez is the son of an African slave imported by the Argentine Tyrant Rosas. Until he was twenty, he polished the boots of South America's most famed dictator. After that he helped pour lead into the enemies of Rosas and has worn a uniform ever since.

Several years ago Rodriguez intrigued ex-President Alvear, who bought him a new uniform, boots, shining sabre and golden epaulettes. The old negro now spends his time in the waiting rooms of the Government Palace, hoping to receive a pension.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 23.—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—The demand for large, fancy Bartlett pears was active on the wholesale district today and values held firm. Supplies were relatively light. The Hudson Valley offerings of number one fruit packed in bushel baskets jobbed out at $2.25-$2.50. The market on western Bartletts was slightly lower on large but stronger on small-sized pears. Recent sales at auction on California Bartletts were made from $2.50-$4.25 per bushel box.

The market continued very dull and weak on state Big Boston lettuce and romaine. Receipts were heavy and the demand was very light. The bulk of the wholesale business on lettuce and romaine was transacted at 40 to 60 cents per crate of 24 heads.

Despite the fact that peaches were only in moderate supply the poor demand resulted in a continued sluggish market. New Jersey was the chief source of supply. Bushel baskets and carriers of six four-quart baskets of the Elberta variety packed out at 75 cents to $1.75.

Offerings of Hudson Valley apples, plums, prunes and crab apples were limited. Price changes were few and small. Nevertheless the outlet was very light.

Early blue Delaware and Niagara grapes are gradually increasing from the Hudson Valley. Trading was again very limited. Carriers of eight small baskets of the blue grapes jobbed out at $1.00-$1.25; Delaware's at $1.25-$1.75 and Niagaras at $1.25-$1.50.

The market was exceedingly dull today on New York up-state beets, carrots, celery, spinach and tomatoes, and prices tended downward. Fancy peas averaged a trifle higher, while cauliflower, cabbage and cucumbers showed no material changes.

Heavier receipts and a better demand caused a further price advance on fancy tender green stringbeans of most varieties. Lima beans, and red cranberry beans were weak and lower. Wax beans varied greatly in quality. Inferior stock was neglected even at very low figures.

STEAM SHOVEL WORKING ON ULSTER GARAGE SITE

Work of demolishing the Ulster Garage building on Fair street, which was commenced a few days ago, has been completed and this morning a gasoline shovel was put to work excavating for the cellar of the new building which will be erected for Montgomery Ward & Company. Bundy & Thiel have a fleet of trucks carting the material away. Under the contract the excavation must be completed in ten days so that the masons can commence operations. The job will be rushed through and it is expected the building will be ready for opening by November 15.

Used Car Sale.

The Stuyvesant Garage on Clinton avenue will hold a used car sale on Monday, which will be continued for ten days. This is the annual summer clearance sale held at the garage.

HIT AND RUN DRIVER PUTS SELF AND OTHERS IN DITCH.

Robert J. Harder of this city reported Friday evening that a car traveling west on the Plank road had collided with several cars, including his own, near the old toll-gate a couple of miles outside the city. Two of the cars were damaged when forced into the ditch by the collisions.

The driver of the car which did the damage failed to stop and continued on. From the manner in which the car was operated it was believed the driver was intoxicated. The number of the car was secured and later a car bearing that number was found in the ditch a short distance beyond but no one was in the machine.

An investigation by the officials from the sheriff's office disclosed the fact that the car was licensed under the name of Clara Lawatch of 51 Summer street, this city. Who the driver was will be investigated. It was also learned that a man had been picked up at the place where the Lawatch car was found in the ditch and brought to Kingston by a passing motorist who stated the man had an injury to his nose, but demanded that he be let out at Washington avenue and North Front street. A search of the car revealed a man's Ingersoll watch broken. The watch had stopped at 10:25 o'clock. The offending car was observed to zig-zag across the road and at times was off the road in the ditch. Beside the Harder car the car of Mr. Steinert of 160 Bruyn avenue was damaged.

SHERIFF LOOKING FOR ACQUISITIVE CALLERS.

Cash and Diamonds Missing After They Left Tillson Home.

Sheriff Rice is investigating a complaint made by a resident of Tillson, who contends that two young men about 20 years old called at his residence Friday evening and asked to see a young girl who was boarding at the place. While she went upstairs to inform the young lady of the callers the two men disappeared in their car and after they left $200 in cash, two diamond rings and a necklace were missing. The matter was reported to the sheriff shortly after midnight and an investigation was commenced.

The place is located on the Springtown road near Tillson village. According to the story told the sheriff the two men came in a car and inquired for the young woman by name. Later the young lady stated that she did not know who the men were but that she had met them at a dance the night before and she believed they came from Kingston. One of the men was described as about 20 years old with "sandy" complexion.

Wichita, Kan., Aug. 24 (AP).—Led by Blanche W. Noyes of Cleveland, contestants drove from here Monday to Cleveland in the national women's air derby, sent to their planes from a cloudy sky this morning toward Kansas City and their first leg of the forty days stage of the aerial derby.

CUDAHY FACES $5,000 FINE FOR DRIVING WHILE DRUNK

Los Angeles, Aug. 24 (AP).—Michael J. P. Cudahy, 21, son of the late Jack Cudahy, meat packer, today faced a fine of $5,000 recommended by a jury which last night found him guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Sentence will be pronounced on the youth Tuesday. The court is bound to the decision of the jury in fixing the fine.

The verdict terminated a trial which lasted two days. The scion of the wealthy packing family was charged with driving his automobile into a car owned by Charles B. Lang on the night of July 12.

Four witnesses testified that Cudahy was intoxicated. His mother and his bride of several weeks, the former Muriel Evans, film actress, took the stand, denying the charges. The young couple's honeymoon to Honolulu was postponed because of the trial.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cubs approached the end of their final eastern invasion yesterday by blasting another victory from the Phillies, this time with an artistic home run barrage in the park which really gave birth to the modern four-base epidemic. Hack Wilson's thirty-third, with two on in the sixth; Rogers Hornsby's twenty-eighth, with one on in the seventh, and Zack Taylor's first, with the bases empty in the eighth, enabled the Cubs to win by 6 to 1—and incidentally add half a game to their lead, in case any one still feels it necessary to measure the margin of the clan McCarthy.

Wilson's drive not only smashed a scoreless tie and gave the Cubs their ultimate winning edge, but also lifted the stocky Chicago outfielder into a tie with Babe Ruth and Chuck Klein for the inter-league home run leadership. Further, it wrecked Ray Benge's vain hope of shutting out the leaders, which he would have had to do to win.

Pat Malone blazed away at the Phils through the Philadelphia gloom. His fire ball was all but invisible, and he came as close to whitewashing the best-hitting team in the National League as any pitcher could reasonably hope to come. As it was, the Phils never once were able to get gay with Mr. Malone, who sent them to supper with only five safe hits added to their record.

A single game in Philadelphia today will wind up all business and social engagements of the Cubs along the Atlantic seaboard this season—barring, of course, a few special calls which Mr. McCarthy hopes to pay Mr. McGillicuddy at Shibe Park early in October.

Regardless of the result at Baker Bowl today, the Cubs already have disproved the charge "homers" which persisted even into the current season from the early days of the McCarthy regime when the Bruins seemed utterly unable to win anywhere but at Wrigley Field. To date they have won thirty and lost only thirteen in the eastern sector.

Bob Smith hurled the Braves to a 5 to 2 victory over the Cardinals at Boston yesterday, despite a home run by his pitching rival, Jess Haines. Moisture in the box office again caused the Giants and the Robins to decide upon a day of idleness followed by one of double action for one price.

Having run a losing streak to three straight games, a season's record for their club, the Athletics added another to their string yesterday just to prove there was no fluke about it. Hal McKain, young Chicago right-hander, came to the front with a five-hit game as the White Sox pounded Old Jack Quinn just hard enough to win by 2 to 1. The A's were shut out until the ninth.

In losing to the Browns by 5 to 0 at St. Louis, the Yankees also created a season's record. It was the first time that they had run into two doses of whitewash on successive afternoons. George Blaeholder allowed only three hits until the ninth, when two infield scratches swelled the Hugmen's total to five. Herb Pennock was the victim of a bad break in the fourth, when the only error either side committed, a wide throw by Lazzeri, paved the way for four unearned runs. He would have lost anyhow, of course, on the one earned marker.

Sad Sam Jones pitched the Senators to a 1 to 0 victory over the Tigers at Detroit, and Danny MacFayden outlasted Willis Hudlin as the Red Sox hammered out an 8 to 5 decision over the Indians at Cleveland in the remaining fixtures.

Herman Stays In National Lead

New York, Aug. 24 (AP)—Babe Herman, the Brooklyn super-slugger, continues to set a dizzy pace at the head of the National League batting table this week with .402, according to figures issued today including games of last Wednesday. Frank O'Doul, the Philadelphia puncher, has made important gains upon Herman, and this week rests only nine points out of the lead at .393.

Other leading regulars are: Terry, New York, .385; Hornsby, Chicago, .362; Traynor, Pittsburgh, and Hendrick, Brooklyn, .358; Klein, Philadelphia, .357; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .353; Frisch, St. Louis, .348, and Stephenson, Chicago, .345.

Hornsby leads in runs scored with 112, and Ott of New York in runs batted in with 117. O'Doul has the greatest total of hits, 186, and Frederick of Brooklyn, the largest crop of doubles, 41. L. Waner sets the pace with 15 triples, and Klein with 33 home runs. Kiki Cuyler of Chicago is out in front with 31 stolen bases.

Burleigh Grimes slipped back to the top of the pitching table when Guy Bush lost a 4 to 1 decision to the Giants at the Polo Grounds on Tuesday. That defeat left Bush with a record of 17 victories and three losses for a percentage of .850, while Grimes retained his record of 16 games won and only two lost for .889. The Pirate star has worked only once since his injury, and that was in a game already lost.

Philadelphia leads in team batting with .307, and has two rivals in the .300 class—Pittsburgh and Chicago, which rest just even with the .300-mark. New York is only three points away.

The Cubs lead in team fielding with .975, one point more than the Giants can show. Cincinnati is one point behind New York.

KEONIG NINE TRIMS WALLKILL, 5 TO 2

In a six inning game at Wallkill Friday night the Keonig Kandy Kids of this city defeated the team of that village 5 to 2. The local team banged the ball all over the lot for the sum of twelve hits.

Averages in the American League

Chicago, Aug. 24 (AP).—The familiar figure of Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia's first baseman, remains in the van of the American League batting procession, a position Connie Mack's all-around star has owned except for a two-day interruption, since the first week in June. Figures released today, which include Wednesday's games, give Foxx an average of .352, one point shy of last week's mark.

Since Heinie Manush of St. Louis topped Foxx in July, the Athletic slugger has connected consistently while candidates for the runner-up position have changed frequently. Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman, finished the week in second place, 13 points behind Foxx, having passed Al Simmons. The latter dropped to third through a loss of nine points during the week.

Regulars following Foxx and Fonseca were: Simmons, Philadelphia, .365; Manush, St. Louis, .362; Combs, New York, .362; Lazzeri, New York, .356; Ruth, New York, .354; Fothergill, Detroit, .354; Heilmann, Detroit, .348; Dickey, New York, .345.

Babe Ruth retained his recently acquired lead in the home run column, driving out two circuit smashes during the week to bring his total to 33. Foxx also got two and was second with 30. Al Simmons batted in but two runs but held on to the leadership with 129, nine more than Ruth's collection.

Bing Miller of the Athletics hit a triple and broke a tie with Fonseca. Miller's total was 13, with Fonseca one behind. The three-way tie in batting out doubles, among Manush, Harry Heilmann and Roy Johnson of Detroit, was wrecked by Manush, who added two to bring his collection to 39. Heilmann had 38, and Johnson 37.

The Yankees, with four men in the first ten, stuck in first place in team batting, with an average of .304, while the Athletics lost a point and dropped to a tie for second place with Detroit at .302.

The order in the team fielding race was unchanged. Philadelphia continued to handle the ball at a .976 clip, with New York second with .974. Cleveland, which has led the league in double plays all season, remained in front with 128, but Boston was only one behind, and Washington had 126.

Bob Grove, the Athletics' number one southpaw, was beaten in his only start, but had a record of 18 victories and three defeats. George Earnshaw, of the Athletics, won one and lost one, for a mark of 19 triumphs and six defeats. Old Tom Zachary had nine straight to his credit.

Other leaders: Team home runs: New York, 111; runs scored, Philadelphia, 749; fewest opponent runs, Philadelphia, 486; strike outs, Grove, Philadelphia, 140.

HART IN WOODCLIFF BOUTS TUESDAY

Vince Hart, one of the fastest lightweight scrappers in this section, will clash with Andy Sankowitch of New York in the opening bout at Woodcliff Park Tuesday night. Sankowitch is very popular with the Poughkeepsie fight fans for he has put up some wonderful fight in previous matches at the park.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

They will be tossing the pigskin around in another fortnight and among the squads worth giving some earnest attention to, we can mention Duke, Florida and the championship Georgia Tech array in the south, Notre Dame and Ohio State in the middle west, Stanford on the Pacific coast, Army and Pittsburgh in the east.

Any time Professor Knute Rockne displays optimism, Notre Dame can be counted upon for better than an average year. And an average year for the Hoosiers is not far short of a national championship finish. Any time the Army has a Red Cagle to break loose, the Cadets are dangerous for any foe—Illinois, Harvard, Yale, Stanford and Notre Dame included.

Georgia Tech loses Captain Pund, and Frank Speer, a great tackle, but has such ball-carriers as Mizell, Thomason and Lumpkin to worry the opposing defenses. Florida has most of its great 1928 array back, including Quarterback Crabtree and fine linemen in Steele and Van Sickel, the latter an All-American end last fall. Duke, with the most ambitious schedule in its history, will bear as much watching as any team below the Mason and Dixie line.

Stanford loses a flock of stars in Sims, Hoffman, Post and Robesker, the latter a fine brace of guards. Washington loses the great Chuck Carroll and Jesse Hibbs has wound up his career at U. S. C. But there will be no lack of talent to take their places.

Ken Strong, New York U's All-American carrier, is through but one of his running-mates on last year's mythical aggregation, Earl (Dutch) Clark, will roam the wide open spaces once more for Colorado College.

Pessimism in college football, especially among the coaches, has gone out of style. When Gil Dobie was turning out undefeated teams at Cornell, his consistent pessimism always furnished some good copy and comic relief. It seemed good psychology for Mr. Dobie to say he expected his undersized, if not actually under-nourished Phi Beta Kappa boys to be slaughtered by Dartmouth, Pennsylvania or Columbia. If Kaw and Pfann happened to run a trifle wild, as they did most of the time, Gloomy Gil lifted astonished eyebrows.

Other coaches quickly caught on, absorbing some of the Gildobian influence. But the consistent failures of Dobie's Cornell teams in recent years altered the situation. The ballyhoo now is in favor of optimism. Even Cornellians, who enjoyed the general laugh over Dobie's pessimism a few years ago, have swung around to thinking that it is not so good, after all. At any moment the veteran coach of the Ithacans may sally forth himself with something approaching optimism over the prospects for 1929.

In the gym one afternoon I asked Babe Ruth about some of the reports, current then as now, that he was near the stage of retirement.

"Blankety-blank," he replied, in effect. "I wish these birds would lay off that stuff. Say, kid, when I am through or ready to quit, everybody will know it."

This seems fair enough.

Industrial Game Monday Evening

Another attempt will be made to stage the game, often postponed, between the Postoffice-Apollo and the West Shore Monday evening at the Athletic Field. The game is very important as it will decide whether the Railroaders will have a chance for honors in the second round or not. Ken Mable is slated to pitch for the Polos, Johnny Carpenter for the Railroaders.

Local Teams in Sunday Games

If the weather permits Sunday afternoon, local teams will play both here and away as follows:

Rondout A. C., vs. Schenectady Polskas at the Kingston Fair Grounds.

Keonig Kandy Kids, vs. Calland's All-Stars from Newburgh at Hasbrouck Park.

Pan-Ams vs. Montgomery.

Red Sox vs. Haines Falls at Haines Falls.

New Wightman Protege Off Like Her Other Pupil---Queen Helen

By JAY VESSELS
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Forest Hills, N. Y. (AP).—The family of sports giants has a new member.

And she is only a woman.

Her name is Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman.

Football has its Knute Rockne and baseball its Connie Mack. Women's tenis, now attaining a place high in the athletic realm, has its Mrs. Wightman.

When Helen Wills raced through to unprecedented heights after placing herself under the tutorship of the veteran Boston star, the tennis world was willing to concede that the latter had helped some. But it was not until Mrs. Wightman's new protege—Sarah Palfrey—became the sensation of true major tournaments that it realized the full value of the Wightman school of tennis.

You find this energetic little woman unwilling to mention herself as anything but a very small factor in the success of her two pupils.

"Girls with their great natural ability are almost bound to reach the top," she said.

Yes, "almost", but it's an accepted fact in metropolitan tennis circles that both Queen Helen and Miss Palfrey reached the forefront at 16 because they learned the finer points from a woman who has been winning national championships since 1909.

Mrs. Wightman, who won the national title in 1909, '10, '11 and '19, found it easy to work with Helen Wills when the present champion came east in 1921 for one reason, she formerly lived in California.

The old Boston star began playing with and coaching the latest sensation three years ago. Sarah Palfrey then was 13.

KINGSTON FIREMEN PLAY AT UTICA TODAY

Among the events, which help to make up the program for the big field day celebration at Utica today, is the baseball game between the Kingston fire department and the Utica department. The Kingston team representing the fire fighters left here this morning for that city and are in hopes of taking the second game of the series from the upstate squad. This contest will feature the events of the day. Several local persons accompanied the team to Utica.

The Vatican is camaigning for cleaner churches in Italy.

Modern Curative Process

In the old days when meat, bacon, pork, or ham was preserved or cured, it was done by the method of covering it with salt. But the modern curer has found that salt extracts water and so it has been discarded. When commodities are cured nowadays the chemical process keeps in all the water.

Fair Grounds Bouts Tonig

Rain Friday evening prevented Fair Grounds fight card from on as scheduled, so the bouts he staged tonight, when the Grounds is expected to be packed capacity with those who are ested in the heavyweight attrac between Big Bill Freeman of Point and Ruñno Alverez of Ta Fla., and Kingston.

In order to give people the cha to do their regular shopping to before going to the Fair Grou Promoter Bill Singer has changed starting time of the fights from to 9 o'clock. This also will give business men, who regularly att the fight programs, a chance to their favorite pastime.

Both Freeman and Alverez, p cipals in the feature attraction, raring to get into the roped ar and settle their claims to supremac The two were in fine condition w weighed in Friday afternoon by L. Hugel. This fight is expected be one of the hottest contests fought at the Fair Grounds.

Weather conditions this morn gave promise of a very fine even for the fights, but in the event rain the fistic program will be po poned until Thursday, August when the same card will be in or This procedure will of course e inate the regular Friday card.

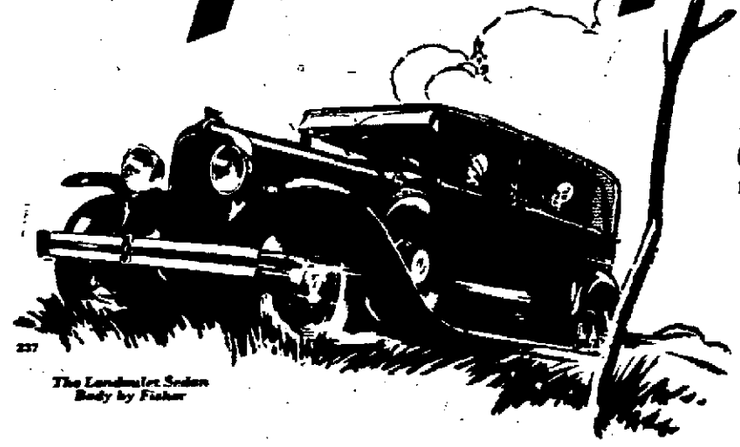
the greatest combination of big car features ever offered at or near $745



The Landaulet Sedan
Body by Fisher

You will be surprised to learn how easy it is to own a Pontiac Big Six. Small down payment—often more than covered by our liberal allowance for your present car. Then a few dollars monthly. Lowest available handling and financing charges. Come in today for an appraisal of the car you are driving now.

2-Door Sedan, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan

Canvass the whole range of the low-priced sixes—and you will find nothing anywhere to compare with the value offered by the Pontiac Big Six. It is so definitely superior to everything else in its field that thousands of motorists have placed their orders after the most thorough inspection. For Pontiac looks like a big car—and that is what it actually is. Its smart new bodies by Fisher—in a variety of colors—suggest the power—the speed—the dependability—the luxurious comfort that Pontiac so generously provides. It offers each of these qualities with that lavishness you associate only with expensive automobiles. Big car qualities—every one—and contributed by such features as those you see listed below. Come in for a demonstration. A few moments on the road in a Pontiac Big Six will convince you that it presents the greatest combination of big car features ever offered at or near $745.

1 A 200-cubic-inch L-head engine yielding 60 horsepower at 3000 r. p. m.
2 The Harmonic Balancer which smooths out torsional crankshaft vibration at all speeds and lengthens engine life.
3 The G-M-R cylinder head which increases efficiency of combustion and reduces spark knock and thumping to the minimum, using ordinary gasoline.
4 The Cross-Flow Radiator—an exclusive Oakland development—which assures efficient engine cooling all the year 'round.
5 Automatic temperature control with water pump to assure positive water circulation and eliminate need for radiator shutters.
6 A sturdy 53-pound, short-stroke crankshaft—fully counter-weighted and perfectly balanced to reduce bearing pressure and prolong the life of the engine.
7 Airplane type, interchangeable, bronze-backed main bearings to assure minimum bearing wear.
8 A 1⅛-inch carburetor—unusually large for a car at Pontiac's price—providing ample gas supply for maximum power at all engine speeds.
9 Gasoline pump—to assure positive fuel feed under all conditions and prevent starving on long hills and hard pulls.
10 Special expansion type piston pins—largest in any car in this field—which assure close fit over a longer period of time.
11 Full-pressure adjustable lubricating system to give correct amount of lubrication regardless of engine speed.
12 Crankcase ventilation of pressure-vacuum design, with separate air cleaner—to prevent water vapor from diluting motor oil.
13 Two completely independent braking systems.
14 Four-wheel, internal-expanding, self-energizing service brakes—silent, protected against rain and dirt—operating at top efficiency in any weather and requiring minimum attention.
15 An emergency brake operating on the transmission, entirely independent of the service brakes.
16 Specially moulded, non-squeak brake linings which often serve for more than 30,000 miles without replacement.
17 Specially designed bodies by Fisher of composite, high quality hardwood and heavy gauge steel construction—free from squeaks and rattles—weather-tight—rugged and durable—with wide, comfortable, deeply upholstered seats and ample leg room and head room.
18 Large, strong, attractive, floating fenders—70 inches across.
19 A chromium-plated radiator shell of distinctive design, 34¾ inches high.
20 A variety of attractive body colors in the year's most popular Duco shades.
21 Specially designed interior fittings by Fisher.
22 Fisher VV type windshield—easily regulated by driver and secure in any position.
23 Driver's seat—easily adjustable, even while car is in motion, and affording maximum driving comfort.
24 Semi-automatic ignition and transmission lock. Key can be removed only when in "locked" position.
25 Instruments, including gasoline gauge, individually mounted on the dash in raised ebony finish panel, lighted by two bonded lamps with separate switch.
26 Four-controlled, dependable beam headlights for maximum night driving safety and ease of control.

Even this does not cover the entire list of Pontiac's big car features. Dozens of important additional items each contribute their share to your motoring satisfaction. And all combine to make the Pontiac Big Six the greatest value in its field.

Pontiac Big Six, $745 to $895, f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Bumpers, spring covers and shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available on attractive terms.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values . . . Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the Time Payment Plan is used.

Helen Wills Won Like a Machine

(By Lorena A. Hickok, Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP).—Through a grey, autumnal-like mist that settled down over Long Island just before it started to rain late yesterday afternoon, a tall young woman in a white frock and cherry colored sweater strode out of the West Side Tennis Club and off toward the inn where the tennis stars stay.

Tanned and freckled little girls, with their stockings rolled down around their ankles and gay colored handkerchiefs wound round their sun-bleached bobbed heads, stared after her ecstatically and whispered to each other:

"Helen Wills!"

But she didn't notice them. She walked swiftly and proudly—and alone. And on her handsome young face there was no expression either of pleasure or pain. If anything, she looked a little tired.

In one of the worst beating ever administered in the West Side Stadium, scene of many bitterly fought battles, Miss Wills had just defeated her old-time rival, Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, eight times national champion.

Playing tennis in a style that somehow lacked thrills for the spectator because of its very machine-like perfection, she had needed only 22 minutes to take two love sets from that game and colorful old fighter who was winning tennis tournaments long before Miss Helen Wills had emerged from the hills of Berkeley, Cal.

So far as the mechanics of the game went, it wasn't age versus youth out there on the turf in front of those 5,000 groaning spectators yesterday afternoon. It was Molla Mallory, still a grand tennis player, versus a machine.

Helen Wills might have been a robot for all the human frailty she exhibited. A marvelously constructed and carefully tuned up machine that sputters a little now and then—she did occasionally hit the net, after all—but goes on through a task to the finish much more swiftly and efficiently, on the whole, than any animal ever could.

Throughout the contest she was as impersonal as one of those Greek statues that her beautiful profile always brings to mind. Her face was pale, but expressionless, and when the match ended her immaculate white frock was not even wrinkled.

And there opposite her was Molla, vivid, dramatic, gallant—white teeth flashing in her bronzed face, a bandage around one bare, brown knee—bobbing, running, leaping, wagging her head, ruefully smiling at the boys who chase the balls that go out.

Molla Mallory, giving 'em all she had in the face of an opposition that was too perfect to be human. Molla Mallory with the great big heart of a champion—fighting a machine.

So much for the actual business of hitting the ball back and forth across the net in the West Side Stadium yesterday afternoon.

But behind that tennis match—invisible to referee and spectators—there may have been another battle fought and lost, and in that battle, age the victor, youth the vanquished.

Molla Mallory, going down to a crushing defeat, but with a poise and spirit that made the stands applaud her again and again. That's maturity.

Helen Wills, pitiless, expressionless through the game. Helen Wills striding back to the inn alone—her face pale and just a little tired. That's youth.

On public courts in Chattanooga, Omaha and Spokane—in towns all over the United States—thousands of little girls who will never be written up on the sports pages were undoubtedly playing very bad tennis yesterday afternoon.

And having a lot more fun than Helen Wills was.

Herbert Lown Wins First Prize

Master Herbert Lown, of 371 Albany avenue, with his pony, Colonel, was the winner of first prize, the blue ribbon and silver cup, in the pony class, at the Greene County Fair, at Cairo. This judging for the pony class was 50 per cent for the rider and 50 per cent for pony. He was also awarded the reserve ribbon in the championship class for horses and ponies.

Master Herbert, who is the son of "Doc" Lown, Graham-Paige dealer, is eleven years old. He is an accomplished rider, having started at the age of five years, and is a familiar figure around the show rings.

Martha Norelius Is $10,000 Richer

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 24 (AP).—Victory in the Wrigley Ten-mile Marathon swim had made Martha Norelius $10,000 richer today and proved beyond question her right to a front-rank position among women swimmers at almost any distance.

The New York girl, who turned professional earlier in the year, outswam a field of 45 women from the United States and Canada in the annual Wrigley event yesterday, a little more than a year after she won the 400 meter Olympic Championship for the United States at Amsterdam. She led the field yesterday by 500 yards at the finish.

Hitherto regarded as much better at shorter distances, Miss Norelius surprised experts by her stamina as much as by her speed. She covered the ten miles—five times around a two-mile rectangular course in Lake Ontario—in 5 hours, 24 minutes, 22 seconds, nearly ten minutes faster than Ethel Hertle's winning time in the first Wrigley Marathon for women last year. Miss Hertle's time then was 5:34:14 4-5.

Second place and $3,000 went to Ruth Tower (Mrs. George Corsan) of Denver; third place and $1,000 to Mrs. Evelyn Armstrong, of Detroit, mother of two children, one of them only six months old. Seventeen-year-old Leah Riley of Keansburg, N. J., won $600 for finishing fourth and Miss Hertle $400 for fifth place. There was only one other finisher, Dorothy Widmer, of Seattle, Wash. The first five to finish automatically qualified for the 15-mile open marathon to be held here Wednesday.

Victims of cold and cramp were hauled out of the water in quick succession. Vivian Lee Welsh of Girard, Ohio, had the most exciting experience. She encountered a Lamprey eel and managed to free herself only after a frenzied struggle. She was so exhausted that she soon fell victim to cramps and chills and was hauled into her escorting boat.

Martha Through With Marathons

Toronto, Aug. 24 (AP).—Martha Norelius, who won the Wrigley swim yesterday, said today she was through with marathon swimming.

"No more marathons for me," was her reply to a query as to whether she would compete again next year. "My stroke is a racing stroke and it takes too much out of you. The marathon is not worth punishing yourself for."

"Not for $2,000 an hour?" she was asked.

"No, I would not," she said.

The winner of the $10,000 prize said every muscle in her whole body ached during the last few miles. "I never felt anything like it," she said.

Showered By Molten Steel.

Budapest, Hungary, Aug. 24 (AP).—A crucible containing molten steel tipped over at a steel factory today, throwing its contents on seven workmen. One was killed and the remainder were expected to die.

Explosion Shakes Vera Cruz.

Mexico City, Aug. 24 (AP).—Dispatches to El Universal from Vera Cruz said that a tremendous explosion shook that city late yesterday when an ammunition dump at the fortress San Juan De Ulua, in the harbor, a mile from the mainland, took fire. The cause of the fire was undetermined. No casualties were known, the arsenal workers having left an hour before the explosion.

The Week in Wall Street

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL,
Associated Press Financial Editor.

New York, Aug. 24 (AP).—Resumption of the upward price movement in stocks, led by the high-priced industrials, formation of several new investment trusts, with capitalization running into the hundreds of millions, and an increase of $133,000,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans to another new high record divided speculative interest in this week's financial markets.

The rapid advance to new records in many of the high-grade industrial issues was attributed, in part, to investment trust buying, which has sharply reduced the floating supply of many of these issues. Buying was influenced largely by excellent earnings and trade reports, which indicate a continuance of prosperity at least through the balance of the year.

While the further increase in loans was disturbing to many conservative bankers and brokers, credit conditions were noticeably easier. Call money got down as low as six per cent, or the equivalent of the New York federal reserve rediscount rate, and outside loans were actually made below that figure. Time money rates also eased slightly, although they were still abnormally high for this season of the year. The federal reserve statement showed that the gain in loans came from non-member institutions and individuals, while the local banks decreased their loans and securities.

The index of fifty leading industrial issues compiled by the Standard Statistics Company for the Associated Press showed a gain of 8.5 points in the week ended Friday night, touching a new high at 247.3. The index of 20 leading rails gained 1.7 points, and the index of 20 leading public utilities gained 5.5 points.

Steel shares responded to reports that operations were being maintained at a high rate despite some tapering in demand in the last few weeks. United States Steel common, which is expected to declare a stock dividend later in the year, touched 260, a new high record. Bethlehem and several other so-called independents also reached new high ground.

Motors, which have been sluggish for several months, showed signs of activity and strength under the leadership of General Motors, Packard and Chrysler. Oil shares, which have been the subject of many merger rumors, also presented numerous points of strength, with a few leading issues reaching new high ground. Efforts to rally the copper shares met with heavy offerings of stock.

Formation of the Blue Ridge Corporation by the Goldman Sachs interests, with an offer of an exchange of its securities for those of 21 leading industrial, railroad and public utility companies, was announced during the week. This is believed to bring the total capitalization of investment trusts and holding companies to well above $2,000,000,000, several of them being capitalized at $100,000,000 or more.

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Aug. 24 (AP).—Iron ore shipments from Lake Erie docks to interior furnaces totaled 3,440,109 tons in the first 21 days of August, compared with 2,542,966 in the same period last year.

Negotiations are under way for a consolidation of the Paragon Refining Company and the Valoline Oil Company, E. W. Edwards, president of the Paragon Company, said today.

Friday sales of copper for export totaled 5,750,000 pounds, compared with 5,250,000 Thursday. Reports from the trade state there is no probability of any decline in price from 18 cents delivered in this country and 18.30 cents abroad, and that the next change probably will be in the form of an increase.

The seventh regional trust conference for the Pacific coast and Rocky Mountain states will be held at Ogden, Utah, September 25 to 27, under the auspices of the trust company division of the American Bankers' Association.

The metal division, the last remaining unit of the Durant Motor Company's plant at Elizabeth, N. J., will end production on September 30 and the plant will be closed about October 1. The equipment will be sent to the City Auto Stamping Company at Toledo, Ohio, which is to furnish stampings for the three western plants of the Durant Company.

DINNER HATS SIMULATE THE COIFFURE.

New York—When Reboux launched her finger wave hat, now several seasons ago, she started a vogue for coiffure hats which is still variously interpreted. So many fall hats follow the hair line and hug the head that they are to say the least deceiving. Evening, or restaurant hats are now fashioned of ostrich flues or of braid, for naturally hats must take on more dignity and a hint of elaboration if they are to accompany the frocks presented.

Most of the hats which have scored to date are off the face models, revealing some brow and usually two eyebrows, although the long side sometimes dips below the eyebrow level.

Velvet hats at last show a reasonable chance of going over, although novelty felts, fabrics and soliel are freely used. The fabric hat, made of loosely woven tweed, tricot and what not has considerable chic. The reversible hat has arrived and occasionsd favorable comment. Such hats may be of shiny soliel on one side and dull felt on the other. The contrast resulting from the use of this type of felt is as popular as the same effect produced in crepe.

Although the French hat has lost nothing of its slickness there is a marked tendency toward draperies of one kind or another and some attempt to introduce trimmings other than the inevitable faverted crosse aigrette, forbidden to America. As a substitute there are little novelty feather pads and brushes used to accent the long side or back, for the long back brim is an actuality.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our darling little son, Kenneth Carleton Caunitz, who passed into eternal happiness 7 years ago today, August 24, 1922.
Just a little rosebud
Plucked in this world
To bloom again in Heaven.
(Signed)
MOTHER, DADDY, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

IN MEMORIAM.

Dedicated in loving memory of my mother, Lana Maria Wolven, who died a year ago, Aug. 25, 1928, aged 95.

A year ago, her Savior spoke,
In a voice we could not hear.
"Come lay thy many burdens down
And trust Me, do not fear."

He gently took her by her hand,
and closed her weary eyes.
She fell into a peaceful sleep
And awakened in the skies.

And oh! what joy she must have known
To see her loved ones dear.
They left her lonely here on earth,
For many, many a year.

And when my days on earth are o'er,
And Jesus calls so clear,
May my passing be as peaceful
As thine, oh! mother dear.

And may thy sainted memory
Ever keep my footsteps straight,
So I can meet thee, dearest mother,
When I enter the pearly gate.

For Heaven would not be heaven
Without a mother there,
Who, on earth, was ever faithful,
Must, my heavenly joys, help share.

I often feel thy presence
Around me everywhere,
And I know you will meet me mother
And welcome me up there.

Loving daughter,
MRS. JOHN N. SIMMONS.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Stylish Blouse.

6567. Printed silk in beige and rose tones, with pipings of beige crepe is here pictured. Wide hip bands lengthen the blouse portions of front and back, and extend in a panel over the center of the front, to the shoulders. The neck is cut in V outline. It may be finished with the deep bertha collar, or collarless as in the small front view which also shows the panel without scalloped edges. The blouse may be made with sleeves and without collar, or without sleeves.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the blouse for a 38 inch size as pictured in the large view will require 2¾ yards of 39 inch material. For bertha collar of contrasting material ¾ yard 39 inches wide is required. To make without collar and with sleeves, will require 2¾ yards of 39 inch material. With collar and with sleeves, will require 3½ yards. To finish the scalloped edges with bias binding as illustrated will require 7 yards 1½ inch wide.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

FLOOD AND LOCUSTS TROUBLE THE SIND

London, Aug. 24 (AP).—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Bombay today said that owing to conditions arising from the floods in the Sind region hundreds of prisoners held there awaiting trial have been released on their personal recognizances to return when summoned. A new source of anxiety appeared in a swarm of locusts in Rajputana, which threatened to move towards the Sind.

YOU are vitally interested and need a copy—provided—you drive a car or truck, you own a car or truck which is operated by an employee.
There have been so many inquiries concerning the provisions of the new SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW that we have published its full requirements in this booklet.
The New Law becomes effective September 1st. But, if you meantime have an accident and a judgment results therefrom on or after September 1st, your registration license on every car you own and operator's license will be suspended unless the judgment is paid within fifteen days.
The Law provides that a Public Liability and Property Damage Insurance Policy is sufficient proof of financial responsibility.
